U.S. Pilots Smash Another Fuel Depot

SOLDIERS OF THE U.S. 1st Infantry Division look at captured Viet Cong equipment, including a heavy machinegun and rifles at An Loc, South Viet Nam. The equipment was captured during a fierce fight near An Loc about 90 miles north of Saigon which began with a Viet Cong ambush of an armored column, but ended in an American victory with at least 120 Viet Cong killed. ### President Serves Notice On Hanoi

Talk Peace, LBJ Warns, Or U.S. Will Stay In Viet

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — President Johnson has served notice on Hanoi that the United States is in Viet Nam to stay — until an honorable peace can be negotiated.

And as long as Communist leaders refuse to talk peace, Johnson warned, U.S. air raids will continue in North Viet Nam.

"Let me be absolutely clear," the President told a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner Thursday night. "I want the leaders of North Viet Nam to know exactly where we stand."

"We would rather reason than fight," he said. "We are using our power in Viet Nam because the Communists have given us no other choice."

Johnson climaxed a fast-paced tour Thursday of Nebraska and Iowa — a trip with heavy political overtones — by asserting that this country has never run from its duty nor skipped out on an ally, and does not intend to start now.

Vowing that as long as he is President "we will stand firm," Johnson said as long as the North Vietnamese "persist in their aggression against South Viet Nam, we will resist that aggression."

"As long as they carry on the war, we will persevere. They cannot wear us down. And they cannot escape paying a very high price for their aggression."

If the North Vietnamese leaders "will only let me know when and where they would like to ask us directly what can be done to bring peace to South Viet Nam," Johnson said, "I will have my closest and most trusted associates there in a matter of hours."

"There need be no agenda," the President added. "There need be no previous understanding of what will and will not be discussed. There need be no commitments on either side. There need only be a room and a table and people willing to talk respectfully."

"This is the one way to stop the fighting," Johnson said. "It is one way to end the killing in the South and the bombing in the North."

In other Viet Nam developments Thursday:

The United States told the U.N. Security Council of the bombings of the oil facilities near Hanoi and Haiphong and said the attacks were necessary to slow down Red military infiltration.

U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg again repeated the U.S. proposal that the Geneva conference be reconvened "to reaffirm and revitalize the Geneva agreement of 1954 and 1962."

About 36 Quakers staged a silent sit-in in the Senate gallery to protest Congress' adjournment for the July 4th holiday at what they said is a time of crisis in Viet Nam. Police arrested six men and six women who refused to leave more than two

Girl, 4, Dies In Home Fire At Aliquippa

ALIQUIPPA, Pa. (AP) — Fire swept a two-story frame house in the Beaver County town of Aliquippa early today and fatally burned a small girl.

The victim was Evelyn Crumb, 4. A sister, Naketa, 5, suffered burns and was admitted at Aliquippa Hospital.

The children's grandmother, Mrs. Leola Crumb, and six brothers and sisters ranging in age from two to 13 escaped uninjured.

Aliquippa Fire Capt. Walter Dushack said all eight children were asleep in one room.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Fourteen partial bottles of liquor were confiscated by deputies at the Roosevelt Inn and 10 partial bottles at the Clover Club.

The Roosevelt operation was staged at 8:30 and that at the Clover Club at 12:30.

Search and seizure warrants were used.

Hunter, Breathitt Join In Program Magnet Plant Dedicated By Crucible In Kentucky

The Crucible Steel Co.'s new multi-million-dollar permanent magnet plant at Elizabethtown, Ky., was dedicated Thursday by Joel H. Hunter, Crucible president, and Gov. Edward Breathitt of Kentucky.

Hunter referred to the multitude of new and unusual uses being discovered almost daily, and indicated the industry may double in 10 years.

Hunter pointed out that magnets are found in almost every modern device commonly used by man at work, at home and at play.

"There would appear to be no more limit to the potential uses of magnets than there is to the imaginations of the people in the permanent magnet industries and in the industries they serve," he said.

Hospital Lists Wilson In 'Critical' Condition

County Commissioner Frank Wilson of Wellsville remains in "critical" condition at City Hospital, where he was admitted Monday night.

Wilson, of 401 Aten Ave., had been hospitalized earlier this year.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. pilots smashed another North Vietnamese fuel depot today as they continued the air campaign to keep fuel from the tanks of trucks hauling men and supplies to the Communists in South Viet Nam.

A U.S. spokesman said Navy pilots put all their bombs "right on the target area" in an attack on the Dong Nham storage depot 15 miles northwest of Haiphong. He said it contained an estimated 14,000 metric tons of fuel.

On the ground, American infantrymen pushed a badly battered Viet Cong unit back toward the Cambodian border after an ambush that backfired on the enemy 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said American counterattacks, artillery barrages and air assaults killed nearly 300 of the enemy in the An Loc area. By late afternoon contact was broken and the 271st Viet Cong regiment was reported streaming toward its

15 Miles From Haiphong

Cambodian haven a short distance away.

Three U.S. fighter-bombers accidentally jettisoned antipersonnel cluster bombs on a Vietnamese village today, killing five Vietnamese civilians and wounding 41, a U.S. spokesman announced.

The spokesman said American helicopters rushed the wounded to hospitals. The three F100 Supersabre jets were returning to the Bien Hoa base 15 miles north of Saigon after a strike. The spokesman said following normal practice they attempted to jettison their unused bombs in a dumping area set aside for this purpose but the bombs did not drop until after they pulled away from the area.

Today was the eighth day of raids in the past two weeks on fuel storage facilities in North Viet Nam. Since June 3, attacks have been made on about 14 different such storage sites in North Viet Nam, particularly around Hanoi.

Despite considerable adverse international reaction to the bombings on the doorstep of Hanoi and Haiphong Wednesday, the United States went ahead with its campaign to reduce the flow of aid to the Viet Cong in the South. The spokesman said the Skyhawks, Phantoms and Intruders from the carrier Constellation left a column of black smoke rising high into the sky from the Dong Nham fuel depot.

During another attack, over the North Vietnamese Panhandle north of the 17th Parallel, enemy fire shot down an Air Force F105 Thunderchief. The pilot bailed out into the Gulf of Tonkin northwest of Dong Hoi, and a rescue helicopter picked him up 40 minutes later.

It was the 273rd American plane reported lost over North Viet Nam.

The Strategic Air Command's B52s staged three raids in South Viet Nam Thursday, twice pounding a suspected guerrilla headquarters near the coastal city of Quang Ngai and once hitting a Viet Cong concentration area in the Zone C jungle 58 miles northwest of Saigon.

Other U.S. planes flew 384 support and combat sorties in the South, some of them also aimed at fuel dumps. A spokesman said there were 40 secondary explosions, indicating hits on fuel or ammunition.

Four 7th Fleet warships shelled the coast north of Saigon. Spotter pilots reported excellent results, the spokesman said.

The action around An Loc began with a Viet Cong attack Thursday on a 700-man reconnaissance battalion of the "Big Red One" on Highway 13 about 50 miles north of Saigon. The enemy force was estimated at first as 2,000 men but the estimate was reduced to 800.

The infantrymen, in tanks and armored personnel carriers, called for reinforcements which poured in by truck and helicopter. Before nightfall, U.S. planes flew 90 sorties in support of the infantrymen.

U.S. military men thought the Communists had miscalculated in attempting to ambush the heavily armed reconnaissance squadron.

Lt. Col. Leonard J. Lewane of Haddon Heights, N.J., the squadron commander, said: "It surprised me that they would

France Pulls Troops Out Of NATO

Declares Alliance No Longer Controls 72,000 In Germany

PARIS (AP) — Business as usual—as much as possible—was the word today as France quit the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military command.

President Charles de Gaulle withdrew slightly more than 2,000 officers and enlisted men from integrated Allied military command posts. France also declared that as of today its 72,000 troops in West Germany are no longer controlled by NATO.

The French withdrawal from NATO military headquarters here and elsewhere in Europe was conducted discreetly. The French flag still flew alongside the flags of the other NATO nations outside the Allied command post near Paris. De Gaulle says France remains a part of the North Atlantic Alliance although French troops are no longer under its command.

Adjusting to the new situation, officers at the NATO command posts continued their planning for joint military action to de-

Sheriff's Men Raid 2 Clubs; Fines Levied

Two persons were fined by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland and two others posted appearance bonds following raids overnight by Hancock county sheriff's deputies on the Clover Club, located on West Virginia Route 2, and the Roosevelt Inn, on Weir Ave., Weirton.

George Miriankos, licensee of the Roosevelt Inn, was fined $50 and costs for possession of alcoholic liquor on licensed premises.

Jean Fife, 43, a waitress, also was fined $50 and costs for the illegal sale of alcoholic beverages.

Delores DeHaven, licensee of the Clover Club, posted $100 bond for an appearance before Herron on July 19 after being charged with possession of alcoholic liquor on licensed premises.

Dorthea Tyson, 35, of East Liverpool, waitress, posted an equal amount on a charge of illegally selling alcoholic beverages for a hearing on the same date.

Fourteen partial bottles of liquor were confiscated by deputies at the Roosevelt Inn and 10 partial bottles at the Clover Club.

The Roosevelt operation was staged at 8:30 and that at the Clover Club at 12:30.

Search and seizure warrants were used.

Blessing For Aged, Johnson Declares

Medicare Goes Into Effect For Senior Citizens Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The massive medicare program providing hospital insurance for all 19 million of the nation's senior citizens went into effect today, hailed by President Johnson as "a blessing for older Americans."

Swinging into operation with the program was an optional doctor-bill insurance plan for which 17.3 million elected to pay $3 a month.

The two programs were brought into being at 12:01 a.m. in one of the biggest operations in medical history.

Doctors and patients reserved any prognosis, but the President pronounced it a success in advance. He called it "a test of our willingness to work together."

By Public Health Service count, 6,714 institutions — or 91 per cent of all the country's 7,374 general hospitals with roughly 93 per cent of the beds — opened their doors for the insured care of any American aged 65 or over.

The nonparticipating hospitals were mainly in the South. Most were barred from medicare payments by their failure to comply with the no racial discrimination provisions of the Civil Rights Act.

To make extra sure that no one dies for want of access to a participating hospital, the government ruled Thursday night that federal hospitals — veterans', military and others — may be used for critically ill medicare patients in emergencies.

Previously it had been announced that any other nonparticipating hospital could be used — private or public, with medicare picking up the bill — if a bed in a participating hospital could not be found to avert the threat of death "or serious impairment of the health."

Despite the serious gaps in participation — only 25 per cent of Mississippi hospitals were in the pool — administration aides were jubilant over the generally high participation nationwide.

"We've done far better in the South than we had dared to hope a month or two ago," one Public Health Service official said.

"And more hospitals will be desegregating when they begin to feel the pressure from unhappy local residents, both white and black," he added.

Twenty-three states entered medicare with 100 per cent participation by their qualified hospitals, and some others came close to that.

In his medicare-eve statement, President Johnson said he had no doubt of the success of the twin medicare programs if these three things happen:

"If hospitals accept their re-

May Start Other Demonstrations

Ohio's 'Welfare March' Stirs National Goal Talk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 10-day "Walk for Decent Welfare" that ended here with a massive rally at the Statehouse may be only the start of other demonstrations.

Encouraged by sympathy meetings in major cities across the country, spokesmen for Columbus welfare marchers hashed out plans late Thursday for a nationwide organization that would seek boosts in welfare payments.

"That rally at the Statehouse is only the beginning, and not a culmination," said Bernard Wohl of Columbus, associated with the South Side Settlement House.

He said representatives from cities in Ohio, Chicago, Boston and Washington discussed statewide and national goals but nothing specific came out of the meeting.

"The Ohio Steering Committee for adequate welfare meets in Cincinnati July 14 and we hope we can take a positive step then," Wohl said.

Some 25 of the marchers met in hour-long conference with Gov. James A. Rhodes and other state officials to press their case prior to the rally.

The governor promised to consider their demands but declined to say when he would reply "to all of the requests here."

Specifically, the group wants Rhodes to call a special session of the legislature to boost welfare payments from $33 to $45 a month for each dependent child.

Mrs. Marian Hall, a march leader, said similar demonstrations will be held in her home town of Akron, and Toledo, Cincinnati and Cleveland, if necessary, to get action.

An estimated 1,000 demonstrators, both white and Negro, joined the last three miles of the march that began in Cleveland, 155 miles away.

Frazier Reams Jr., of Toledo, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, was one of Thursday's marchers and rally speakers. Other speakers included comedian Dick Gregory, Democratic State Sen. Frank King, who is also president of the Ohio AFL-CIO and Democratic State Rep. Carl Stokes, a

Flags Dip As Tribute To Victim Of Viet War

Flags at four sites on city-owned property are being flown at half staff in tribute to Navy Hospital Corpsman Ronald Roach, 19, who was wounded fatally in Viet Nam June 21.

Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

The mayor ordered the flags lowered at the main staff at City Hall, nearby on the War Memorial monument, on the Diamond and at Central Fire Station.

Services will be conducted Saturday morning for the young war victim, who was the husband of Mrs. Mary Birch Roach of Baxter St. and the son of Mrs. Marjorie Timmons Haney of Riley Ave. and Richard Roach of Glenmoor.

Man Charged In Route 30 $20 Robbery

A 23-year-old Hookstown man is in Beaver County Jail charged with the robbery of a service station attendant Thursday night on Route 30.

Pennsylvania state police at the Chippewa Barracks apprehended Robert Wayne Meyers of Hookstown R.D. 1 at 12:45 a.m. and charged him with taking $20 from Roy Franklin Ross, 19, of Toronto.

Officers said Meyers drove into the Highway Oil Co. station near the West Virginia border and when Ross approached Meyers grabbed the youth and told him to give him all his money.

The attendant, fearing the driver in the car had a weapon, gave him the currency on him, and Meyers drove away.

Meyers was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ross Keeler of Darlington Township, who set $2,000 bond. Unable to post bond, he was taken to the county jail.

Trio Nabbed On Beaver Falls Street

Agents Confiscate 137 Vials Of Drug, Valued At $45,000

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — State narcotics agents made today what they called the largest single seizure of LSD in Pennsylvania.

Agents said they confiscated 137 vials of the mind drug, valued at $45,000, with the arrest of three men.

The arrests climaxed a two-month investigation, they said.

Three agents made the arrests as the men were in the process of selling 17 vials of LSD to a fellow agent on a street in downtown Beaver Falls, they said.

Agents said a package of marijuana also was seized.

Taken into custody and charged with illegal possession and sale of dangerous drugs and illegal possession of marijuana were Allan R. Rider, 22, of Hollywood, Calif.; William M. Harper Jr., 20 of Sherman Oaks, Calif.; and Tony Burrell, 28, of Mercer County, Pa.

Agents said Rider and Harper are students at Valley Vista College in California.

According to the agents from the drug and narcotics control section of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, Rider and Harper had flown to Geneva-on-the-Lake, Ohio, and were driving to Pittsburgh.

The seizure was set up for Beaver Falls with Renato Della Porta, assistant superintendent of the control section, posing as a buyer, agents said.

They added that other arrests were expected.

June Or July It's Still Hot

Last Month's Data Given By Copeland

July appears no different than June so far as the weather is concerned, with the heat wave scheduled to continue at least through Saturday.

The mercury again is expected to climb into the 90's.

Despite the torrid weather of the past week or so, the average temperature for June was below normal, Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport, disclosed in his monthly summary.

The average temperature for June is 66.8 degrees, while last month the mercury averaged 66.3 degrees, Copeland reported.

He pointed out the early part of the month was very cool, with the low reading 30 degrees

PUC Studies Gas Company Rate Request

The Public Utilities Commission at Columbus has taken under study the appeal of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. to raise its rates in unincorporated areas of Columbiana County.

A hearing on the rate increase was conducted by a commission examiner Wednesday.

The company claims its operating costs have increased 20 per cent since its last rate increase six years ago and that now it is asking only a 5 per cent increase in the rates for the unincorporated areas in order to bring them up to those being paid by the municipalities of East Liverpool and Wellsville.

This would mean increases ranging from 52 cents to $1.17 more for 30,000 cubic feet of gas to residents of unincorporated areas around East Liverpool and Wellsville. Present rate for East Liverpool is $2.77 for 30,000 cubic feet and $24.42 for Wellsville.

Mrs. Boggs Gets Ohio VFW Posts

Mrs. Melvin Boggs of Broadway, Wellsville, a member of the Auxiliary of Wellsville VFW Post 9285, was installed as flag-bearer and rehabilitation chairman for the state during the Ohio VFW convention this week at Cleveland.

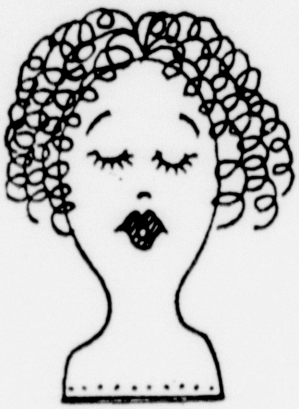

Mrs. Boggs, local Americanism chairman, also received the national Americanism award for her work the past year. Her reporting of Americanism programs showed a 100 per cent increase the past 12 months.

Mrs. Vivian Walters of Greenspring is the new Auxiliary president for the department. Delegates from Post 9285 attending were Melvin Boggs, department Loyalty Day chairman, Kenneth Carter, past commander, Richard Carter, Henry Gooch, Ed L. Parker and Mrs. William M. Parker.

Mrs. T. W. Hutchison

LISBON — Mrs. Celina Marie Hutchison, 70, of 112 McKinley St., died at 2:47 p. m. Thursday in Salem City Hospital after an illness of six months. She had been in the hospital a week.

She was born Nov. 3, 1895, in McDonald, Pa., a daughter of Henry and Marie Denny DuBois, and had lived in Lisbon the last two years.

Mrs. Hutchison was a member of the Raccoon Presbyterian Church at Camden, Pa., and the Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at McDonald.

She leaves her husband, Thomas W. Hutchison, whom she married Sept. 17, 1919; three daughters, Mrs. George Riddle of Lisbon, Mrs. Lawrence Fodde of McDonald and Mrs. Theodore Petrossi of Casper, Wyo.; a son, Thomas W. Hutchison Jr. of Casper; a sister, Mrs. Henry DeVos of McDonald, and a brother, Julius DuBois of Midway, Pa.

Services, still incomplete, will be conducted in Pennsylvania.

Oliver Finley

Services for Oliver (Ollie) Finley of Wolf Run Rd., Industry R.D., who died Tuesday, were held this afternoon at the J. T. Anderson Jr. Funeral Home in Beaver.

The Rev. William Beal Jr. of the Industry Evangelical United Brethren Church officiated, with burial in Oak Grove Cemetery, Industry.

Survivors include three brothers, Dawson Finley, Rem Finley and Elbie Finley, all of Industry.

Infant Shingler

Wayne Patrick Shingler, infant son of Daniel Shingler and Sharon Sprout Shingler of Route 30, Chester, died this morning at 7:30 at City Hospital following a three-day illness.

He was born June 14 at City Hospital.

In addition to his parents, he leaves two brothers, Robert Shingler and James Shingler, both at home, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sprout of Chester.

The Chester Arner Chapel is arranging services.

Mrs. Schondelmayer

Mrs. Marjorie Ann Hepler Schondelmayer, 44, of 331 Indiana Ave., Chester, wife of the Rev. Robert H. Schondelmayer, who is minister of the Chester First Christian Church, died Thursday about 2:15 p.m. at the Weston (W. Va.) Hospital after a brief illness. She was a patient in the medical ward for three days.

Mrs. Schondelmayer was born Dec. 2, 1921, in Scottsdale, Pa., a daughter of Herman C. Hepler of Ruffs Dale, Pa., and the late Mrs. Grace Ann Hepler. She had resided in Chester about two years.

In addition to her husband and father, she is survived by two sons, Spec. 4 David Schondelmayer, who is stationed with the Army at Ft. Gordon, Ga., and Paul Schondelmayer of Urbana, Ill.; two brothers, the Rev. Lynn Hepler of Sharon, Pa., and Darrell Hepler of West Newton, Pa., and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Dudinsky of New Stanton, Pa.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in Tarr (Pa.) Cemetery.

The Rev. Benjamin F. Allison of the Paradise Valley Christian Church of Phoenix, Ariz., will officiate.

Friends may call at the chapel after 7:30 tonight.

Frank E. Griffin

Frank E. Griffin, 73, of 948 Lisbon St., a retired potter, died Thursday at 2 p. m. at City Hospital after an illness of three weeks.

He was born in Meigs County

Oct. 7, 1892, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isiah Griffin. He had resided in this area virtually his lifetime. He retired 10 years ago as a kilnplacer. His wife, Mrs. Lillian Griffin, died Aug. 12, 1955.

He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Kay Delsignor of Cottondale, Fla., Mrs. Ellen Moore of Chester and Mrs. Linda Joyce Howell of Oxnard, Calif.; five sons, the Rev. Vernon L. Griffin, Gordon R. Griffin, Gilbert E. Griffin and George A. Griffin, all of East Liverpool, and Frank Phillip Griffin of Louisville, Ohio, and 19 grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery, Chester.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday and Monday.

Laura Peddicord

Mrs. Laura F. Peddicord, 78, of 200 W. 4th St., widow of James C. Peddicord, died this morning at 5:30 at the home following an illness of two years.

She was born in Pittsburgh Sept. 14, 1887, but had resided in East Liverpool a great part of her life. She operated a grocery store on Jackson St. until four years ago. She was a member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and its Lutheran Church Women Group. Her husband died in 1940.

She is survived by two daughters, Miss Alice Peddicord at home and Mrs. Bertha Kaufman of East Liverpool; a sister, Mrs. Thomas Bancroft, and a brother, Charles Martin, both of East Liverpool; two grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 10:30 a.m. at the East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. Charles W. Kampmeyer. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday and Sunday.

on the 2nd — tying the all-time low set June 8, 1912.

The month had five days in the 90's, more than any June since 1957, when there also were five. The high was 94 on Monday.

There were 20 clear days, six cloudy and four partly cloudy days, for 75 per cent sunshine. Normal is 65 per cent.

Rainfall amounted to 3.55 inch, only about a half-inch under the normal 4.03 inches.

Copeland said his part of the district is only about a half-inch or inch under normal for the year in rainfall, but the shortage varies.

Scattered storms in recent days have brought different amounts of precipitation, he said, so some areas have greater need for rain than others.

Mrs. Mock Takes Off, Seeks 2 New Records

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Cessna 206 piloted by Mrs. Jerrie Mock took off from Port Columbus at 7:50 a.m. EST today as the flying housewife set out on a 3,800-mile flight in search of two aviation records.

One of the records has never been claimed.

The flight is expected to take about 30 hours.

She plans to fly to Albuquerque, N. M., then to Hartford, Conn., then back to Columbus to take a non-stop closed-course record for her class of light plane, now held by a Russian.

She also would claim a non-stop closed-course record for women, which is listed as an official record but which no one has ever claimed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Housing and Urban Development Department has announced approval of a $3,267,516 loan to Warren, Ohio, to build 200 low-rent homes.

8 Youths Will Assist With State Park Work

LISBON — The Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council received word Thursday night that eight young men will work this summer in Beaver Creek State Park.

The youths, age 16 to 21, will be paid from $3.55 allocated Thursday from the Neighborhood Youth Corps emergency fund for the park project. Work will begin Tuesday.

Local arrangements were made through the Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc. The youths will be employed for nine weeks in improving the park and assisting with the restoration of Gaston's Mill.

Park Manager Elmer Hiles and L. B. Cameron of Salem, the mill restoration contractor, will be supervisors.

Twenty members and guests attended the council's monthly meeting at the Williamsport Church which the group has restored as a worship center for park campers and visitors. Services are held at 8:30 a.m. each Sunday. An average of 30 persons attended services through June.

Kenneth Archibald of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. of Youngstown discussed unidentified flying objects. He reviewed the history of UFO sightings, many going back to Biblical times.

He said numerous sightings have been reported by pilots on the Chicago - Washington run — a path crossing this section of Eastern Ohio.

Officers reported the Firestone Electric Co. of Salem will rewire Gaston's Mill free of charge and that the State Highway Department will resurface four miles of Beaver Creek Park roads this summer. The Department of Natural Resources is paying for the road work.

Fifteen or 20 old barn lanterns are needed for Gaston's Mill, officers said. R. Max Gard, Lisbon antique dealer, donated eight. Donors may get in touch with Gard or Secretary - Treasurer Floyd Lower of Lisbon.

The next meeting will be Thursday, July 28, at the Williamsport church.

215 Take Part In Meeting Of District Social Workers

Some 215 social workers and others attended the reception of the Eastern Ohio Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers Thursday night at the Ohio Pick Hotel in Youngstown.

The chapter embraces four counties, including Columbiana. It is endeavoring to promote interest in the movement in compliance with a special message that President Johnson made to Congress in March when he stressed the nation's need for qualified social workers. In his speech, he said that he felt by 1970 the nation would need 100,000 more social workers.

Four members of the Thespian Club of East Liverpool High School, under the direction of Keith Langdon, presented a one-act play, "Breakthrough," which was written by Nora Stirling for the U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare. The skit depicted the social work movement.

The participating students were Karen Simpson, Jim Cooper, Anthony Barbuto and Aileen Silverman.

A discussion followed with those attending divided into different groups.

Speakers were Dr. Pauline Botty, chairman of the sociology department at Youngstown University; Mrs. Eleanor Reid, field instructor of the graduate school of social work at the University of Pittsburgh, and Dr. William McCullough, dean of social work at Pitt.

Refreshments were served.

fend Europe in case of attack. But their work was complicated by uncertainty over what they could expect of France in case of an attack.

France's previous contribution to the European shield, available for immediate retaliation, was the two divisions and two tactical air force squadrons she has had stationed in West Germany. The West German and French governments are now negotiating on the future status of those forces.

As part of De Gaulle's plan to pull France out of the military side of the 17-year-old alliance, he has also ordered all Allied headquarters and foreign bases to get off French soil by next April.

The move will involve about 28,000 U.S. troops at NATO headquarters and U.S. bases. An advance contingent of Americans began evacuating the base at Evreux Thursday in three C130 transports for a new home in England.

The United States withdrew jointly controlled tactical nuclear weapons that previously were at the disposal of French air force units in Germany. The United States had warned earlier that these weapons would be taken back if France left NATO's military arm.

Gen. J.A. Kiemanssegg of West Germany became commander in chief of Allied forces in Central Europe after change of command ceremonies Thursday in Fontainebleau. The outgoing commander, French Gen. Jean Crepin, reviewed troops from eight nations.

French officers and men left the other NATO military commands, including the main one, Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe, located outside Paris and commanded by U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

SHAPE will be moved to Belgium before next April.

Ohio Pike Tolls Hit $1 Million In June

CLEVELAND (AP) — Estimated tolls of $1,015,000 were collected from commercial users of the Ohio Turnpike during June, bringing total six-month revenue to an estimated $14,033,000.

In his report Thursday, James W. Shocknessy, Turnpike commission chairman, said this is the first time in the road's 10½-year history that truck tolls topped $1 million in one month.

Repair Buckled Road

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Road crews worked through the night and temporarily repaired sections of U.S. 35 between Xenia and Dayton that buckled due to the intense heat Thursday. Both westbound lanes had to be closed and the Ohio Highway Patrol rerouted traffic onto Old U.S. 35.

March

Negro who narrowly missed election as mayor of Cleveland.

Welfare march spokesman told Rhodes they want him to tap a $28 million state surplus for higher poor relief payments and join in pleas for Congress to provide more money for Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) and other federally-assisted welfare programs.

Welfare Director Denver White estimated it would cost $44 million a year to meet the requests.

Reams told the Statehouse crowd he stood on a statement asserting that the state's $28 million "profil" was accomplished "slaying your payments."

Wohl said the march was to show Ohioans what it means to live on welfare.

"We managed to debunk some of the myths" about welfare chiselers, he said. "Many of the people we talked with really don't understand the situation."

Another march spokesman, James Klink of Marion, said "welfare clients should be given the right to work and earn. This is a walk of desperation."

He referred to federal refusal to go along with a legislative enactment that would have permitted aid to dependent children recipients to keep earnings without deduction from benefit payments as now required.

Mrs. Cora Jones of Mahoning County made a plea for "100 per cent public assistance" and lower rate for food stamps.

White said earlier that "Ohio never has paid 100 per cent of need in accordance with standards."

But, he said, starting today, when statewide welfare reorganization approved by the legislature takes effect, standards will be geared to the 1966 cost-of-living index.

White said nearly $8 million has been added to the Ohio ADC program and payments now will go to 78 per cent of up-graded standards.

Krabach said the $28 million surplus would run the state slightly more than a week if a downturn developed in the economy and "we would have a deficiency in welfare again."

At the rally, George Wiley, director of a Poverty Action Rights Center, Washington, called marchers "the vanguard, the cutting edge of a movement that will sweep the country."

Motel Owner Indicted In Slaying Of Wife

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — A Wayne County motel owner has been indicted for first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of his wife June 16. Indicted by the grand jury Thursday was Cecil J. Voorhies, 58, Orrville.

Wooster Municipal Court Judge William Sharp Jr. freed Voorhies on $20,000 bond at a hearing June 18. Voorhies will be arraigned July 11 in common pleas court.

De Gaulle Back Home Following Soviet Visit

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle returned to day from Moscow, where he said his state visit had set the stage for a new era of easing tensions between Western and Communist Eastern Europe.

Nearly all members of De Gaulle's Cabinet turned out at the airport to greet him after his 11-day state visit to the Soviet Union.

Welfare Shift Now In Effect

LISBON — The Columbiana County Welfare Department is the sole welfare agency in the county today — effective date of a welfare departments' merger bill approved last year by the Ohio Legislature.

Director Robert R. Bycroft said the department today becomes supervisor of approximately 1,000 cases under the former Aid to Aged Division and some 60 relief and welfare cases from the four city departments at East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salem and East Palestine.

"It's going to work," commented Bycroft this morning, "but it's going to take a few days to get straightened around."

He has 36 employees, including nine from the former aid to aged office. None of the city welfare employees transferred here.

Bycroft noted the relief load of the cities is very low and suggested this is one of the reasons the legislature put through the consolidation plan.

Our First Families

When we speak of "our first family" — the occupants of the White House — the phrase is never empty. It always has meaning. Sometimes it has more meaning than usual.

The golden wedding anniversary of Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower has made us think a little more than usual about the symbolism of the White House occupants.

The Eisenhowers were followed by the young and charming Kennedys. Then came the middle-aged Johnsons and their lively daughters. Before the Eisenhowers were the Trumans, with their poised and lovely Margaret.

We think of the Franklin Roosevelts and their lively brood, of the Calvin Coolidges and their tragic loss, of the Hoovers.

These people and their children have had a profound impact on our personal sensibilities and our national morale. It has been said often that Britain was sustained by its royal family's courageous example in World War II, and it could be said of the United States that the American people, too, have been given strength by their First Families.

In a golden anniversary interview, the Eisenhowers gave their countrymen insight on a vital matter — their secret of making a marriage work for half a century. For them, it has been a philosophy of accommodation with allowances for gaiety.

They do not claim their married life has been all fun. It has had more than an ordinary allotment of stress, tragedy, tension and handicaps. But it has been sustained throughout by acceptance of the present and faith in the future — with gaiety wherever possible. They have laughed often.

Millions of Americans profited by the Eisenhowers' years in the First Family spotlight. Congratulations on their golden wedding anniversary are deeply sincere. Most of us feel we are congratulating ourselves for being lucky enough to have had their inspiring example.

That Was June

The name of the 30 days that have just run out on the calendar is June, most publicized month of the year, the one that goes with moon and spoon in song-writers' jargon.

But wasn't it noticeable this year, as it has been in previous years, that June isn't what it has been cracked up to be?

Either people are more critical, or this much-touted month hasn't been coming up to its clippings. It isn't possible that the human element which feels this way about June isn't coming up to its own expectations, is it?

In any case, the human element's high expectations of running over the landscape barefoot, strewing roses and spreading love and good will are seemingly beyond realization in the kind of June we've been having lately.

June rhymes with monsoon, goon, loon, Rangoon . . . words like that.

Climatically, it's a blistering heat wave, or an unseasonably low temperature.

Psychologically, it's a season of dark uncertainty. What will happen to the graduates, the newlyweds, the diplomatic wheeler-dealers who hold meetings in June?

Come to think of it, maybe it is the human element that's wrong with June. Maybe there comes a time when June is just another month of the year, like December, only more so.

An Unyielding LBJ

WASHINGTON

President Johnson's latest statements on the American role in Viet Nam weren't new — he had said it all before — but they were unyielding and kept open a grim window on the future.

Critics of the war and his handling of it have been on his back for months, but he didn't bend an inch to mollify them. In his speeches in Omaha and Des Moines Thursday he said the United States would see this war through.

But in explaining this country's involvement in the present struggle he raised the prospect of American involvement in other Viet Nams, bigger or smaller, around the world in the future.

This was not the first time he had indicated that "We are obligated," he said, "to help those whose rights are threatened by force."

"If one government uses force to violate another people's rights, we cannot ignore the injustice, the threat to our own rights, and the danger to world peace."

HE EXPLAINED the case of South Viet Nam. The North Vietnamese are trying to deny the South Vietnamese the right to build their own nation, the South Vietnamese asked U.S. help, and Johnson said: "Only if we have abandoned our respect for the rights of other people can we turn from their plea."

In a speech more than a year ago Johnson said approximately the same thing. "Around the globe, from Berlin to Thailand, are people whose well-being rests, in part, on the belief that they can count on us if they are attacked."

And at the end of his Omaha talk Thursday

No Idle Hands

A fellow wonders in midsummer if the gratification of honest summer toil is as widespread among the rising generation as it should be.

Are today's youngsters learning from first-hand experience how it feels to do a hard day's work, or have rules and regulations loused up their chance to learn?

The first summer job I can remember was on a truck farm. A touring-careful of kids my age took off early in the morning. We spent the days hoeing, weeding, picking berries. They were long days, the pay was minimal, the sun was hot and on days it rained we sat around and waited. But it was a summer job.

It was the beginning of a long series for me.

One summer I ran a concrete mixer on the site of a church construction project. To this day when I go past that church, I have pride in work well done. The mortar was first-rate. The work day was 10½ hours. The work week was 5½ days. I earned enough money that summer to pay most of the cost of one year of college.

Another summer I was utility man for a coal and ice company. In the early morning I went to the "ice houses" where natural ice harvests were stored and brought enough ice back to town to load the delivery wagons. During the day, I was responsible for keeping the wagons supplied. Between trips to the "ice houses," I filled coal cellars of customers who bought the winter's supply in advance and got a summertime discount.

One memorable summer I was a shovel laborer, one of a gang sent out on house-construction jobs to dig down straight sides on basements after the bulk of the excavation had been made with horse-drawn scoops. We

Shorts-Circuited

Our sympathy goes to well-meaning wives of members of Congress who wish tourists visiting the Capitol would wear clothes befitting the dignity of Washington, seat of the government.

In other words, the congressional wives think shorts are not suitable for national shrines.

In this, they are dead right. And if they try to do something about it, they will be dead wrong. This is why:

Something happens to Americans when they go away from home and become tourists. They wear odd getups, adopt odd behaviorisms, get weird ideas.

As far as Washington and the Capital are concerned, they regard the city and its buildings as their own. Let us not forget that they even visit the Lincoln Memorial attired in shorts and funny hats. Let us remember that they visit cathedrals in Europe in shorts and funny hats. As tourists, they are a law unto themselves. Anything goes.

And chances are it will stay that way as long as their money holds out.

By James Marlow

he added this: "There can be only one decision in Viet Nam. We shall see this through. We shall persist. We shall succeed."

"There are many nations, large and small, whose security depends on the reliability of our word and our power, the word of the United States must remain a trust men can live by and live with and depend on."

Johnson, known to believe he has laid out his views on Viet Nam repeatedly, had remained relatively quiet in recent months as the critics battered away at him.

The fact that Thursday's talk was just a rehash of what he has said before would bear out his belief that he has already fully presented this government's case.

HE PROBABLY decided further explanation was needed because just the day before he ordered the bombing of the Communist oil depots around Hanoi and Haiphong in North Viet Nam. This, too, was a repetition, but in tactics. Earlier this year, after ordering the resumption of bombing North Viet Nam following a 37-day layoff, he held a news conference to explain it.

There's no doubt his critics get under his skin. He may start to make a speech from a prepared text that says nothing unpleasant about his critics.

Then he thinks of them, gets overheated, and as he goes along adds some thoughts that were not in writing. It happened Thursday at Omaha when he departed from the written speech to complain about the critics:

"Sometimes I almost develop stomach ulcers just listening" to some of the people who say he's "troubled, confused, and frustrated" by the war.

By Truman Twill

dug trenches for footers. We waterproofed basement walls, dug ditches for drain pipes and were available for lifting, carrying, toting, mason-tending and rough-carpenter work.

Another memorable job was counsellor at a boys camp — one of those unexpected jobs that materialize out of nowhere because of a last-minute shortage of qualified candidates. Despite an almost total lack of qualification, my "counselling" gave the kids in my cottage the highest composite rating in camp, plus winning the soft-ball championship and the house-keeping award. That was a point of pride.

It's a funny thing, looking back over those summer job experiences. I thought of them as vacation adventures. I still do. I was being paid for doing something that was fun — hard work, but fun.

I wouldn't have known what to do with my time if I hadn't worked. I used to wonder what other kids my age did in summertime — kids who didn't work. It seemed to me they were missing something.

When I hear about the trouble kids get into now, I feel sure the devil has special aptitude for exploiting idle hands. We've over-protected kids to their own detriment. We've insulated them with Social Security while stripping them of sociological stability.

In The Driver's Seat

Hoffa Seeks New Strike Tool

By Victor Riesel

Jimmy Hoffa must have thrown three coins in the Fontainebleau—a Miami Beach hotel which oozes a culture to which today's Teamsters' leadership has enthusiastically grown accustomed. Hoffa has returned there to direct—and that word is carefully chosen—the massive Teamsters' convention.

For Jimmy, "the kid" or "the caliph" or "the champ" (depending on the intimacy of the particular convention delegation), it's all work and no play.

This is Hoffa's most vital Victor Riesel convention—not because he may next convene in a federal "pen"—but because he is preparing to reach for industrial power unseen in this nation and unachieved by any civilian in the free world.

Hidden in the 125 resolutions being prepared by the committee for action at the 19th Teamsters' convention are several constitutional changes which could shake the land.

They are, in effect, intended to give Jim Hoffa and a handful of labor men, should they ever follow him, the mechanism with which to call a general strike.

THEY COULD DECIDE the day the nation shall stand still.

Furthermore, if Hoffa's strategem works out, it will all be very legal. From his special command post in the Fontainebleau, Hoffa will make certain that the 2,112 delegates over a convention audiotape vote unanimously for a constitutional change which will give him the actual power over all Teamsters' strikes.

After the constitution is rewritten in Miami Beach, Hoffa will have the authority to approve or veto any stoppage called by any one of the Teamsters' 837 locals. He will grant approval, or will ban a walkout, depending on whether the local Teamsters' union is in the "coordinated front."

What Hoffa wants is that each local coordinate its employer contracts so they expire on the same day. Then he would have that day coincide with the expiration of contracts signed by other Teamsters' locals in every city. This common expiration date would match that of other regions.

SINCE HOFFA has some industrywide contracts, he would have all locals in the same industry "expire" their contracts on the same day.

Thus he would weave a nationwide fabric of labor-management pacts covering whole chunks of the country and vast industries—such as construction.

On the theory that no law would be broken if the Teamsters quit en masse, shouting, "No contract, no work," Hoffa could shut down entire cities, combinations of contiguous states, or an industry—say, milk deliveries or food and vegetable trucking.

Naturally, many regional Teamsters officials aren't dashing up to Hoffa's suite, quill in hand to sign over authority for the calling of local strikes. So it will take some changes in the Teamsters' constitution to give the general president the power to force uniform contracts and expiration dates.

Your money is as safe as though you were buying part of the Federal Reserve Bank if you wager that Hoffa will have his new constitution. But that for "Jimmy" is just the beginning.

For some time now he has been talking with fairly powerful labor leaders in other fields.

HIS ARGUMENTS are simple. Have your contracts expire on the same day as ours. Then when you come to us, we can help you legally. We'll be able to beat the ban on secondary boycotts.

Furthermore, Hoffa states that the time has come to give the U.S. employers a dose of what the French and Italian unions give their adversaries—shut down most of the nation for 24 or 48 hours; idle entire industries; black out whole cities, transit, power and fuel deliveries et al.

This is the development to observe at the coming behemoth conclave. For behind Hoffa is a treasure of liquid millions, assets of $50 million, and a new dues structure which will bring the National Headquarters about $30 million annually.

With such funds Hoffa can buy more airplanes for his organizers; go into the factories in the field (citrus and vegetable ranches); unionize everything from filling stations to sheriffs' headquarters; beat the drums for unionization of professional football players and throw considerable weight around among some mighty nervous congressmen.

All this he can do with peace of mind. There will be no opposition. Maybe just a rebel yell or two. But all his vice presidents are going down the line with him.

The only line he'll cross alone, should it come to that, would be the threshold to a cell.

Meanwhile, first things first. Power, Hoffa reckons, does not come before a fall.

Wellsville Case Reviewed

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW

On the front page of The Review of June 29 it stated "Appeal Action Filed Against Amato Ruling."

It then goes on stating that Mayor William Daugherty and Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare and the Wellsville Civil Service Commission have filed notice of appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court.

I am speaking as a member of the Civil Service Commission stating that I have not been invited to say we wanted to appeal this case. To my knowledge the commission was ignored. It had been left up to the mayor and the safety service director.

During the year 1965, the entire commission went on record to keep out of any appeals and run the business of civil service. This is in the minutes of our meeting.

If the Civil Service Commission of 1966 ever went on record of appealing this case I was never informed of such a meeting. I would like to go on record right here and now that I think this childish case has gone on too long and I for one am against any more of any type of appeal.

I feel it is time that the administration get behind the police officer and the whole police department and our city will be better off. Let's cooperate with one another. Let's quit being bitter with one another and try to improve Wellsville not tear it apart.

Somewhere along the line this case is going to cost the city of Wellsville. We all know that lawyers don't work for nothing. The City Council is having a hard time making ends meet. What is going to happen if the lawyers come back at them and say you owe us for these appeals?

I'm sure the mayor and safety - service director don't have that kind of money to keep this going. Just ask yourself, Where is all the money coming from to fight this case? Or ask the administration. Who is footing the bill?

Editor's Note — Because of a misinterpretation of the court entry at Lisbon, The Review mistakenly included the Civil Service Commission in the appeals action. The matter was clarified in Thursday's paper.

Chan's Teaching Praised

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW

As a student at ELHS and a Math IV student I would like to express my opinion on the dismissal of Mr. Chan.

About four years ago a new program was started at Westgate. Algebra, a course offered to ninth - graders, was to be given to a limited number of eighth - grade students who had a capacity for math. The first group to complete five years of high school math graduated this year and it was felt to be a success.

These students attribute the success of the program to the brilliant teaching of Mr. Chan. I have learned. Those of us who remain must face Math IV, and particularly Math V, with a new, perhaps less experienced teacher, or if no qualified teacher is obtained — not at all.

It is disgusting to hear those who side with the school board keep saying that Mr. Chan was fired only as a coach, but that he could have remained as a teacher. He was hired as a coach and that was to be his main job. Why would an excellent coach remain merely as a teacher where he was not welcome as a coach when he could combine both positions in a friendlier atmosphere with a better salary?

Why isn't our school board more realistic? Let's hear the real reasons why Mr. Chan was dismissed. Surely nothing the school board could tell us would worsen the professional reputation of Mr. Chan any more than all the unfavorable publicity and ominous secrecy with which they have previously surrounded it. Is our school system becoming a dictatorship?

Island Of Jersey

The island of Jersey is blessed with contented cows, succulent potatoes and low taxes.

Farmers on the British channel island take great pride in their famed Jersey herds. England has imported cattle from Jersey since 1771. The small-boned cows are prized throughout the world as cream producers.

To protect the breed, the islanders have enacted strict laws to keep other cattle off the island. A public herd book keeps track of the Jersey population.

Jersey is the largest of the British Channel Islands; it lies only 12 miles off France's Normandy coast. The island is girded with rugged granite cliffs and wide sandy bays and beaches. Wooded valleys, fertile orchards and small, tidy farms give the 45-square-mile island an aura of unbounded prosperity and peace.

At potato harvest time, diggers work from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m. to gather the bountiful crop. Special ships transport the potatoes to the English market. "Few dishes" a gourmet has written "can equal a bowl of fresh dug Jersey potatoes cooked with mint and topped by a large dab of butter."

In Council Action

Street Program Measures Voted

Legislation establishing the city's annual low-cost summer street surfacing program cleared the last hurdle in Council action Thursday night at the third session in 11 days.

Council enacted on third reading an amended appropriation ordinance providing $11,000 as the municipality's share of the work and then quickly approved a companion measure authorizing Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vordrey to call for contractors' bids for the program.

About two dozen residential streets are expected to be included in the 1966 program — little more than half of the 1965 total. Today is the deadline for neighborhood groups to file petitions with the director's office.

THE FUND ordinance allocated $2,000 as the city's 50 per cent share of surfacing secondary streets and $9,000 to be spent to apply a second treatment to thoroughfares given the initial treatment in 1963. All the money comes out of city income tax revenues.

The companion measure allows the administration to call for bids on sealing 75,000 square yards of streets that were previously surfaced. It also stipulates bids will be taken on applying the initial surface on another 10,000 square yards.

The fund ordinance required three separate readings because it never mustered the six affirmative votes required for immediate passage at a single meeting.

It won first reading, 4-2, at the regular session on June 20, with Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray dissenting. In the second reading last Monday night, the vote was 5-1, with Duffy dissenting and Murray absent. In the third reading last night, when a minimum of four votes was required, the ordinance had six affirmative votes, including Duffy's. A negative vote from Duffy last night could not have delayed passage, since the legislation already had moved through two readings.

The legislation was supported consistently by Councilmen Robert W. Sample, Donna Richards Wilson, James Lowe, Harold Maylone and Norman Bucher. Sample was on vacation when it was placed on first reading.

DUFFY AND Murray did not object to the funds for the street program, but rather to an allocation of $2,100 to purchase a pickup truck for use at Thompson Park.

However, no objections were voiced on the truck purchase last night. Legislation authorizing the Board of Park Commissioners to call for bids and buy a new half-ton vehicle also was passed, 6-0.

When the legislation for bids was presented, Maylone commented:

"This pickup may be thought of erroneously as a superintendent's truck, but actually it is used for general work in the park."

"That's right," Sample commented. "They bought a used truck two or three years ago and it's not safe to operate now. It's used to collect trash and broken limbs and other work. The park doesn't call on the city for help, but if it did, one of our city trucks would be taken off its regular work."

"That truck is used also for work on the river front and the ball fields," Lowe said.

That ended the discussion and the legislation was approved unanimously. Both the fund measure and the bid legislation contain emergency clauses, which mean they will go into effect as soon as they are signed by the mayor.

IN OTHER action Council approved unanimously a resolution authorizing the administration to call for bids and sign a contract for applying new roofing on City Hall. A faulty roof has been blamed for leaks which damaged the plaster on the ceilings and walls. The leaks are particularly noticeable last year in the Municipal Court chamber on the building's top floor. Stopgap measures repaired the leaks pending full-scale re-roofing.

Sample warned that property owners should take steps soon to cut weeds and clear junk from vacant lots and also repair sidewalks and curbs.

He said Council soon will be ready to consider legislation requiring property owners to keep their lands clear and their sidewalks and curbs repaired or the municipality will be authorized to have the work performed and bill the owner via a lien on the tax duplicate.

"I thought the people would rather do the work themselves, rather than have the city do it and then bill them," Sample said. "With adequate warning to the public, maybe it won't be necessary for the city to undertake a lot of this work."

"In my ward they can't even enforce an ordinance to prevent the Loblaw Market from burning trash," Mrs. Wilson commented. "How are they going to enforce all these new regulations?"

As the meeting closed, Duffy said he has received complaints of washed-out earth from unimproved streets moving onto Bank St. during rain storms. He asked the street committee to investigate.

Sample, president pro tem, presided in the absence of President Ernest Lowe. Lowe and Councilman Floyd Murray were excused.

52 Attend Picnic For Firemen Of Glenmoor Station

Fifty-two attended the annual picnic of the Glenmoor Volunteer Fire Department Thursday night at Lake Samary.

Chief Kenneth Mills presented an engraved desk set to East Liverpool Chief Alfred Van Dyne in appreciation "for his interest and time spent in training members of the department."

Van Dyne awarded department members certificates for completing 13 weeks schooling in a state-approved firefighting course.

Mills appointed Ronald Keys to the position of captain in the department and presented 14 firemen pins for five, 10 and 15 years service.

Recipient of the 15-year pins were Devine Banks, Mills, Warren Rogers and Ron Wathey.

Ten-year pins went to Wilmer Bryson, Martin Christen, George Hamilton, William O. Miller and Kenneth McPeck and five-year pins to James Roush, John Roush, Henry Tice, Richard Wolf and Carl Lee.

Girl's Cheek Bruised When Car Hits Tree

LISBON — Debra Dailey, 15, of Lisbon R. D. 3 received a bruised cheek Thursday night when a car in which she was riding struck a tree on W. Lincoln Way, 75 feet east of Green St.

Naomi G. Dailey, 42, of Lisbon R. D. 3 told police she looked down to move her purse to make a place for a dog and the car ran over the curb.

Policeman John Vokovich said the accident occurred at 10:40 as Mrs. Dailey was driving west. He estimated $500 damage to the front of the 1963 sedan.

Medicare

responsibility under the law not to discriminate against any patient because of race."

"If doctors treat their patients with fairness and compassion, I feel sure that most doctors do not plan to drive hard bargains with needy patients."

"If old patients cooperate in scheduling treatment and do not demand unnecessary hospital and medical services."

He concluded: "I have no doubt for the future. I believe that July 1, 1966, marks a new day of freedom for our people."

The government has pooh-poohed forecasts that a tide of elderly patients will swamp the hospitals. Hospital administrators generally agree that there will be some difficult local situations but that they can handle the expected average increase of not more than 5 per cent in the patient load.

This judgment was reinforced as each recent day brought scores of new hospitals into compliance. Officials expect that many more will meet both the medical care standards and the civil rights test during July.

The states which already had 100 per cent certification of hospitals for compliance as of mid-July were Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Hawaii, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont and Wyoming. The territories of Guam, Samoa and the Virgin Islands also had full participation.

At the other end of the scale were Mississippi with 33 of 133 hospitals certified for rights compliance, South Carolina with 46 out of 93, Louisiana with 78 out of 144 and Georgia with 107 out of 176.

Florida had 159 complying out of 188, Virginia 84 out of 119, North Carolina 138 out of 166 and Tennessee 138 out of 163.

If nonparticipating hospitals are used for emergency patients, Robert M. Ball, Social Security director, has ruled, Medicare will pay only for the period of emergency — not for any care given after it becomes possible to discharge the patient or transfer him to a participating hospital.

And if an emergency admission to a federal government hospital is sought, Ball said, the decision is up to the medical officer in charge and is subject to the availability of beds.

The presidential appeal to doctors not to "drive hard bargains with needy patients" apparently was prompted by a resolution passed Tuesday by policy-makers of the American Medical Association. The AMA recommended that doctors should bill patients directly for services under Medicare.

This would permit doctors to set their charges at any amount they chose, leaving it to the patient to seek reimbursement from the government's Medicare "intermediary" agency — in most cases, the local Blue Shield plan. The "intermediary" would reimburse for only 80 per cent of what it considers a "reasonable charge" for the treatment given. The patient would have to absorb the difference, however large.

If on the other hand, the doctor sent his bill to the "intermediary" for payment, his compensation would be limited. He would get his 80 per cent of the specified reasonable charge, and could collect no more than the other 20 per cent from the patient.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Crane —

Dear Heloise: Here is a little item I got from my sister:

She has a set of the little squarish type glass spice jars, but I have hesitated using this type of jar as I thought all the flavor and aroma would escape from the spices in a short time because the lids did not fit tightly.

She took some thick, wide rubber bands and put them around the inside lip edge of the glass lids, and it makes an airtight container.

If you can't find a thick rubber band, I found two regular bands (one on top of the other) work fine.

DOROTHY CHRISTOPHERSON

I have been testing this hint on my apothecary jars for six months... and it works.

The rubber band also eliminates the clatter when putting lids back on the jars.

HELOISE.

Dear Heloise: An idea for a card table cover is quilted cotton materials available in so many beautiful prints today.

I bind the edges with match-bias tape, and if it is for a gift, add an inexpensive fringe all around the edges.

Then I sew elastic or more tape on the corners to tie under the table.

You can also make napkins out of corresponding material.

to match. Just fringe them a little and you have a gift any card player would love to have.

PATTY YATES.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: My husband doesn't know I read your column.

He thinks all the household tips and short-cuts come out of my intelligent head.

I wanted to tell him the truth but I believe I'll let him keep thinking he married a whizz!

E. A. M.

DEAR HELOISE: I found I could reuse plastic cheese and salad cartons by removing the printed matter from the tops with fingernail polish remover and relabeling the contents.

Makes the tops more attractive, too.

MARY E. BLOWERS.

We tested the polish remover on the plastic tops, and it worked beautifully.

We also tried to remove the print from the rest of the container, but found it only produced a smeared blur.

These cleaned tops can be labeled with a felt marker to show the contents when using the containers for storing leftovers in the refrigerator or freezer.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When buying spreads for my boys' bunkbeds, I bought twin bed size which were too wide, of course.

So I cut a 15-inch-wide strip off the side of each spread and used these pieces to make lovely matching valances for their bedroom windows!

MRS. MAURINE WILDER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an idea for housewives who have different sized beds in the home:

I dye the girls' twin sheets pink, and our son's youth bed sheets blue. The double bed and crib sheets I leave white.

Now I have no trouble grabbing the right sheets for the proper bed.

MRS. O'NEILL.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a remarkable use for empty detergent squeeze bottles.

For women who dye or color rinse their hair, one of these containers can be used to apply the color or rinse to the hair which is growing out from the scalp and needs re-touching.

All you have to do is squirt the rinse on in a thin stream, and it saves the mess caused by a dripping brush.

MRS. H. M. BLOCKER, JR.

Red Or Black Ink?

Differences Sounded About New Fiscal Year

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government begins a new fiscal year today with one segment of Congress and the Johnson administration still at odds over whether it will end in red or black ink.

All agree that fiscal 1966, which ended Thursday, rolled into the red — the only difference of opinion is by how much. Estimates range from $2.5 billion to $2.9 billion.

For the new year the administration is sticking with its earlier estimate that spending will outstrip net tax receipts by $1.8 billion.

But a source on the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation said the fiscal 1966 deficit should be close to the $2.5 billion the committee had predicted earlier in the year.

The Treasury Department still estimates last year's deficit at between $3.4 billion and $3.9 billion, but one government source said it could drop below $3 billion — which would make it the lowest deficit in six years.

At issue, in both the old and new fiscal years, is the amount of taxes the government collects.

Exact figures for the last fiscal year won't be fully tabulated for another three weeks but it's already certain the government ended the year in far better shape financially than the administration anticipated six months ago.

Last January the deficit was estimated at $6.4 billion based on spending of $106.4 billion — the first spending program in history of more than $100 billion — and net tax receipts of $100 billion.

The government ran a $1.2-billion surplus during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1966, but since then deficits have ranged from $3.4 billion to $8.2 billion.

Higher than expected tax collections and more frequent tax deposits by corporations of money withheld from paychecks prompted the better than anticipated showing during the past year.

Large corporations must now deposit withheld taxes with the Treasury twice monthly instead of once. This began during June and resulted in an added $1 billion in tax receipts during the month.

Generally, economists say the booming economy with its relatively low unemployment rate and larger paychecks spurred the over-all increase in tax collections.

These factors, the Treasury said, should raise net tax receipts to $102.5 billion or possibly to $103 billion for the fiscal year just ended. The House-Senate tax committee estimates $103.9 billion.

For the new fiscal year, the Treasury estimated net receipts at $111 billion and the committee staff at $116.2 billion. Spending is estimated by the administration at $112.8 billion.

Gives Views On Medicare

Head Of AMA Combines Skill And Business Sense

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Milford O. Rouse combines professional skill with sharp business sense.

He made that clear in his first news conference since his selection as the president-elect of the American Medical Association.

He said he prefers, under medicare, to give the 65-or-over patient an itemized account which the patient can take care of himself. Then the patient will be reimbursed, he said, under the new insurance system for the elderly.

"I'm not your insurance broker," he said in capsuling his attitude Thursday. "I'm your doctor. I'm trying to help you."

Dr. Rouse said he won't try to block medicare.

But, he said, "I can see no way to do it (handle medicare) except on a basis of direct billing."

Dr. Rouse is 63. He's of medium height, balding and tanned and has a rather slim silhouette.

"How do you keep so trim?" an interviewer inquired.

"I'm a gastroenterologist," he replied with a smile.

The implication, apparently, is that a doctor whose speciality includes the stomach and digestive tract is careful about what he eats.

Dr. Rouse was born in Jacksonville, Tex., son of a Baptist minister, teacher and author. He went to high school in Vernon and once worked for a newspaper there, the Vernon Record.

Dr. Rouse earned his M.D. at Baylor University in 1927 and went into practice in Dallas, Tex., a year later.

He will be installed as the AMA's 122nd president next June at the annual convention in Atlantic City.

He has been a member of the policy-making AMA House of Delegates since 1963 and speaker since 1963.

Dr. Rouse was asked if many doctors will increase their fees in the medicare era that began today.

"I don't think so," he replied. "I'm going to charge what I charge now," he added.

Dr. Rouse is a deacon and a teacher of a men's Bible class at the Lakeside Baptist Church of Dallas.

He and his wife, the former Leaurame McDavid, a Baylor classmate, have one daughter, Mrs. Curtis L. Sawyer of Fort Smith, Ark.

Bid For Constitutional Rule

Balaguer Sworn In Today As Dominican President

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic launches another attempt at constitutional government with the inauguration of President Joaquin Balaguer today.

Diplomatic missions from most non-Communist countries of the world were on hand for the ceremony in the National Congress building.

Security arrangements were tightened in the capital after leftist extremists showed signs Thursday of starting a series of disturbances to mar the inauguration.

At least three persons were wounded when police fired into a mob that attacked policemen with clubs and rocks. Eyewitnesses said they saw as many as six or seven wounded by gunfire and about 20 more hurt by rocks.

The incident occurred a few hours before Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived to head the U.S. delegation to the inauguration.

Humphrey pledged U.S. cooperation to "advance the social and economic well being of the Dominican people."

Balaguer, 59, a bachelor and a lawyer, was installed as president once by Dictator Rafael Trujillo and overthrown by the military after Trujillo's assassination. This time he carries into office with him hopes of many in the long-troubled country for peace and economic progress.

The Dominican Republic is still recovering from the shattering April 1965 revolt when a small segment of the armed forces and some civilians rose in arms to restore constitutional government.

The bloody revolt led to intervention by U.S. Marines and paratroopers "to help prevent another Communist state in this hemisphere."

The U.S. force was later joined by troops from Latin-American countries and put under the flag of the Organization of American States. The force's remaining 8,000 men began withdrawing this week. The evacuation is expected to be completed within 90 days.

Traveling Education

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Shirley C. Keller, Jr., father of seven, was graduated with honors from the University of Cincinnati's evening college after having traveled some 40,000 miles commuting by train and car. Getting the degree took Keller nine years. Most of the commuting was by car from Middletown, Ohio, but recently he was promoted to traffic manager of the Armco Steel Corporation plant at Ashland, Ky., and he had to travel to Cincinnati by train.

Mrs. Richard Deem, the former Jane Abrams, was honored with a post-nuptial shower Wednesday night at the home of Miss Sue McMillan of Radio Heights.

Gifts were displayed on a table centered with a large shower can. Miss Judy Dawson arranged the "bow bouquet" made from the package trimmings.

Games and contests were played, with prizes going to Miss Terry Sprague, Miss Brenda Riebel, Miss Linda Aivalotis and Mrs. Carol Ferello.

A buffet luncheon was served 20 by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ira McMillan. Miniature shower cans were favors.

The couple was married May 14 at Lisbon. They are 1965 graduates of East Liverpool High School and the bride is now a student at Ohio Valley Business College.

Pic. Deem was inducted into the Army in December and left Wednesday for Viet Nam. He formerly was employed at the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co. in Chester.

A family picnic honoring two local servicemen was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevens of Park Meadows, Chester.

Army Spec. 4 Dennis Smith Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Smith of College St., left Thursday for duty in Viet Nam. He has been in the service two years, including one year in Korea.

Airman 2C Earl E. Smith Jr. is spending a 30-day furlough with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Smith of Globe St. He has been in the Air Force more than three years and has been stationed in Viet Nam.

Games and contests were played.

Refreshments were served 22 by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Smith. The buffet table featured a patriotic theme. The centerpiece was a cake decorated with soldiers and airplanes and inscribed with the words "Welcome Home Boys."

Miss Debbie Mackall assisted her mother in serving refreshments during the meeting of the Eight Nites Club Wednesday night with Mrs. Jane Mackall of Orchard Grove Ave. Prizes for two tables of 500 went to Mrs. Priscilla Wellington, Mrs. Loraine Martin, Mrs. Dorothy Davis and Mrs. Rosemary Ibbis, club.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ludovic was a guest. The next session will be July 13 with Mrs. Wellington of Indiana Ave., Chester.

Area Couple Back Home After Honeymoon Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Croft have returned to their new mobile home at Echo Dell Trailer Court, East Liverpool R.D. 2, following a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and the Thousand Islands.

Mrs. Croft, the former Carla Dale Blazer, is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Blazer of Elkton and Dale Blazer of Rogers. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Croft of Lisbon R.D. 3. Their marriage took place at 7:30 o'clock June 18 at the Lisbon Methodist Church.

A half-hour of nuptial organ music was presented by Mrs. Kenneth Everett, with Mrs. Michael Boyd of Calcutta, soloist, singing, "Because," "I Love You Truly" and, at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

The Rev. Fredrick Shiltz officiated for the double-ring ceremony performed before the altar banked in greenery, white gladioli and white pompons and flanked by nine-branched candelabra festooned with stephanotis. White satin bows marked pews reserved for family.

THE BRIDE wore a gown of Chantilly lace and organza designed with a circular Watteau train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline, enhanced with crystals. Her bouffant, elbow-length veil of illusion fell from a lace crown accented with pearls and crystals.

She wore a single-strand of pearls, the gift of her father. Her cascade bouquet featured white carnations and stephanotis centered with an orchid. She observed the familiar traditions including the six-pence in her shoe.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Clifford Schultes of Newell, Mrs. Ronald Westover, a sister of the bride, and Miss Carolyn Lesko of Washington, D.C. They wore identical gowns of jade organza over jonquil taffeta fashioned with "A-line" skirts and empire bodice with scooped neckline and enhanced at the waist and sleeve with embroidered lace.

Their matching hair were of leaves and loops with circular veils. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses and white carnations and wore the gifts of the bride, necklaces with pendant hearts set with rhinestones.

Candace Blazer and Tami Lynn Westover, sister and niece of the bride, were flower girls. They wore floor-length gowns of white organza over yellow taffeta, with full skirts and empire bodice enhanced with lace and accented at the waist with yellow velvet ribbon. They, too, carried colonial bouquets of white carnations and yellow roses and wore, as gifts of the bride, heart-shaped lockets of gold. James Lee Hoover, nephew of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer.

Ronald Rouse of Leetonia served as best man and ushers were Ronald Westover, Clifford Schultes and Richard Croft.

The mother of the bride wore a suit of white lace over mint green crepe, with white accessories and corsage, and the mother of the bridegroom a dress of yellow linen with white accessories and corsage.

FOLLOWING the ceremony, a reception was held at the New Waterford Fish and Game Club.

A four-tier wedding cake topped by bridal figurines centered the bride's table, which was covered with white cloth and net. At each side were tall white tapers and yellow roses laced together with fronds of ferns. Bowls of yellow roses completed the table decoration.

Serving were Mrs. Roy Knight, Mrs. James Knight and Mrs. William Hunter, aunts of the bride.

Miss Rose Ellen Welsh registered the guests. Mrs. James Wines and Mrs. Ronald Corcoran assisted in opening the gifts.

The William Jackson Orchestra played for dancing.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the bridegroom at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Croft are 1965 graduates of Beaver Local High School. Croft is employed at Theron's Country Store near Columbiana and Mrs. Croft is a secretary at the Steele Insurance Agency in East Liverpool.

held at 349 Main St. for the benefit of its projects.

Those with articles to contribute should contact Mrs. Margaret Gualtier, grand regent.

Mrs. Margaret Gualtier entertained INF Club members Wednesday night at the Motorant Chicken Manor.

She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Theresa Leone.

Prizes for 500 went to Mrs. Connie Weeda, high; Mrs. Mary DeFilippo, second, and Mrs. Kay DeSenzé, consolation. Mrs. Sadie Surace, Mrs. "Ellie Dilonetto and Mrs. DeFilippo were received as new members.

The club will meet in three weeks at the DeSenzé home on Marshall Rd.

Mrs. Jackie Barborak was hostess to GOW 500 Club members Wednesday night at her home on Maple Ave.

Winners were Mrs. Pat Cook, Mrs. Ann Long and Mrs. Judy McMahon.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Sally Dowling. The July 13 meeting will be with Mrs. Sally Rawlings of Chester Ave.

Wellsville Personals

Miss Agnes Graebing of Clark Ave., Francis Spring of Russell Heights and Ralph Graebing of Cleveland have returned home from Bellevue, Pa., where they attended funeral services Wednesday for their aunt, Mrs. Lella Graebing, who died June 24 at her home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Pvt. Donald Green of Ft. Benning, Ga., is spending a seven-day furlough with his wife, Mrs. Mary Beth (Jane) Green of Alderick Rd., and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Green of 1121 Oakdale Ave. Pvt. Green has completed his basic training at Ft. Benning and will report Saturday to Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala. for training in Nike acquisition, radar computer and repair.

Pyle To Start Duties Friday As Lieutenant

Patrolman Robert B. Pyle will advance to lieutenant's rank in the police department effective next Friday, succeeding Lt. William E. McDaniel. Safety Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

The director signed the official appointment papers this morning, based on the Civil Service Commission's certification of Officer Pyle as the top man in a promotional examination which it conducted May 17.

Lt. McDaniel has resigned, effective next Wednesday, to become director of safety for a new police system at Wayne State University in Detroit. He announced his resignation June 11.

Under state law, appointment of the top man in a promotional examination is automatic, as the Civil Service Commission certifies only the name of the person with the highest grade.

Officer Pyle, son of Capt. Robert H. Pyle, resides on W. 4th St. He has been a member of the department approximately 10 years, serving primarily as officer in charge of the desk at headquarters on the 4 p. m. to midnight shift.

Lt. McDaniel was in charge of the midnight to 8 a. m. shift. However, the new lieutenant's assignment will be made at the direction of the chief.

In another city personnel change, the director received a letter Thursday afternoon from Fireman Delmar Manning, advising that he will retire from the department today after about 27 years' service. Manning resides at 1570 Etruria St. Manning's retirement increases to two the number of fire department vacancies. Fireman John Bromby, another veteran retired last May 5.

Vodrey said he expects to fill one of the vacancies within the next 48 hours by making an appointment from a Civil Service Commission certified list.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q — How can I repair a loose caster in a piece of furniture?

A — By wrapping the shaft of the caster with aluminum foil, then forcing it back into place.

Q — How can I impart a "new look" to a pair of kid gloves?

A — By rubbing them with egg white after cleaning them.

Q — Any ideas for a good fly repellent in a room?

A — A few drops of oil of lavender in a glass of boiling water not only chases flies, but quickly fills a musty room with a pleasant aroma.

Q — How can I improvise glue when the real thing is not at hand?

A — Colorless fingernail polish does a fine job for most purposes.

Magnet Plant Dedicated By Crucible Head

magnet producers. In fact, we plan to increase our capacity still more next year."

The ceremony was actually the culmination of a new expansion and modernization program that began with the establishment in Elizabethtown of a Crucible facility for making ferrite, or ceramic, permanent magnets in 1960.

This plant since has been expanded several times until it now occupies approximately 50,000 square feet and has tripled the production capacity of even a year ago. Latest construction, consolidating all Crucible magnet production and development here, was a 150,000-square foot facility for producing Alnico magnets and related products.

The two buildings are adjacent on a 47-acre plot on the outskirts of Elizabethtown, some 30 miles southeast of Louisville.

In explaining the production of permanent magnets, Portus M. Wheeler, president of the Crucible Magnet Division, reported how "permanent" they really are.

"A permanent magnet retains more than 97 per cent of its magnetism practically forever," Wheeler said.

"It loses about 1 per cent of its magnetism as soon as it's energized. It loses another 0.2 per cent during the next 12 months for a total loss of approximately 1.2 per cent during the next 100,000 years. That's why they are called permanent magnets."

Since the ancient Greeks noticed that lodestone attracted iron, man has been fascinated by magnetism.

Typically, the Greeks had the word for it, too. It is based on the origin of lodestone in the hereditary bounds of the Magnetes, the inhabitants of Magnesia, in Thessaly. From about the 11th century on, magnetism was closely associated with the compass and navigation.

Permanent magnets were made mostly of carbon steels from ancient times until about 1830. Alloys were added after 1855. Crucible and other magnet producers were producing tungsten magnet steels prior to World War I. Spurred by the critical shortage of tungsten during World War I, Crucible's Dr. J. A. Mathies developed 3 1/2 per cent chromium magnet steel at the company's Syracuse (N.Y.) plant.

Improvements are still being made in materials, processing techniques and magnet design to take maximum advantage of

Johnson

hours after the Senate adjourned.

The President, in speeches here and in Omaha, expressed in stronger terms than ever before his own determination to persist and prevail in Viet Nam.

He reminded both audiences in impromptu statements that 44 states voted for him two years ago and that he and he alone "has the horrifying, terrifying duty of making the final decision."

The President argued that those who challenge his determination are encouraging the Communists to "hold out a little bit longer."

In Hanoi tonight are men who believe they have more patience in the bank than we do," Johnson told the Democrats. "They read our polls. They listen to our debates and they say to themselves: 'If we only wait long enough.'"

Besides the speeches here and in Omaha, the President visited two Iowa farms and inspected a barge at Omaha carrying the 5-millionth ton of American wheat to India.

A part of his speech in the capital of this corn belt state was devoted to assuring farmers that their net income and purchasing power has risen sharply since the Democrats took office in 1961. He called it "a successful farm policy unparalleled in the world."

After the speech here, the President and wife Lady Bird flew to the Johnsons' Texas ranch for the July 4th weekend. They were joined there by daughter Luci and her fiancée, Pat Nugent.

'May Be Just Warmup'

LBJ Launches Campaign With Barnstorming Tour

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — President Johnson has launched his 1966 campaign activities with a Midwest barnstorming tour that he says "may be just a warmup" for things to come.

It seems to be 1964 all over again, as far as Johnson's getting techniques are concerned — but with one difference.

Two years ago the President parried his Republican rival, Barry Goldwater, by bearing down on the theme, "Whose finger do you want on the nuclear button?"

This time Johnson appears ready to seek Democratic votes in the November congressional election by stressing that the United States is in Viet Nam to win, dissident senators or public opinion polls notwithstanding.

If anyone ever doubted Johnson could sit on the sidelines during a nationwide campaign, he gave the answer Thursday in a tightly scheduled tour of Nebraska and Iowa.

The President, though he rarely concedes that anything he does is political, came close to doing so Thursday night as he addressed a cheering crowd of Democrats at a party fund-raising dinner here.

Departing from his text, he remarked: "This night in Iowa, hot as it is, has been good for your President. It may be just a warmup of a thing to come between now and the fall."

Johnson, who has stuck close to the White House much of the time since his triumph over Goldwater, plainly was doing some old-fashioned political barnstorming in Omaha, Des Moines and venturing into the farm country where the pollsters had posted warnings—Indiana, Iowa.

Much in evidence was the free-wheeling oratorical style of 1964 — even identical language such as Johnson's oft-repeated phrase, "It's so good to see so many happy, smiling faces."

To newsmen who have followed Johnson since the day he took office, the oratory and the energetic playing to the crowds — when crowds were present — added up to one thing: The Johnson of 1964 is back.

The President, it seemed, had finally cast the die, chose an issue and decided — perhaps because of the polls — that it was time to get out and make himself heard.

In two important addresses — one here and one in Omaha — he bore down hard on a single theme.

The United States doesn't cut and run from a fight. It doesn't come home "with its tail between its legs" and it won't do that in Viet Nam. But if Hanoi wants to cease its assault on the South, the United States will negotiate without preconditions, without an agenda.

Anyone who followed Johnson two years ago could sense, in his determined words that were emphasized by off-the-cuff additions to his formal speeches, that this was a message certain to be repeated and repeated and repeated between now and election day.

At all stops Johnson's audiences greeted his words with enthusiasm. That farm visit was reminiscent of 1964, too.

The chief executive, with obvious effort, vaulted a feeding pen to wander around among some Duroc pigs, giving the traditional call of "soo-ee, soo-ee." Perhaps because an army of dignitaries, reporters and photographers were following, the pigs fled at first. But soon they were underfoot and Johnson called out, "haw, git up, boys," and chased them. This time they fled for certain.

Des Moines produced yet another reminder of 1964—the battery-powered portable loudspeakers commonly called "bull horns." At two major intersections here, Johnson halted his motorcade to mix with the people, then climb on the back of his limousine and say, microphone in hand, "I hope things are going good for you."

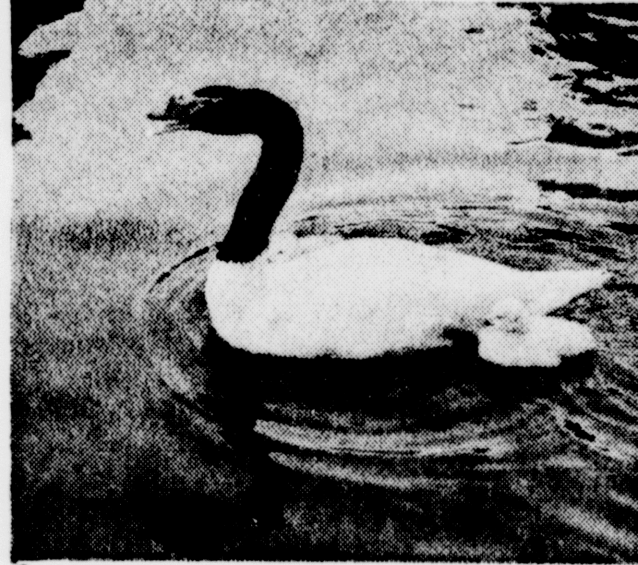

And if, after all this, anyone doubted the President was on the campaign trail, he produced the final evidence at his all-stops-out Des Moines speech.

If folks are worried about inflation, he jibed, "maybe they ought to vote Republican." Then, he said, they wouldn't have to worry any more about high prices or high wages.

Man, 70, Found Dead In Cleveland Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 70-year-old man was found dead following a fire early today at a rooming house.

A spokesman at the coroner's office said it appeared that the victim, Robert Marshall, had been shot and that an autopsy would be performed. Cause of the fire was not determined.

STICKING CLOSE TO HOME. Mama swan may want to wander, but a couple of her kiddies are keeping in close touch. In this case birds of a feather do stay together.

FHA Loans Assist Farmers On Low-Income, Idle Land

Producing additional dollars on low-income or idle Hancock, Brooke, Marshall and Ohio County farm land in West Virginia is being encouraged by a Farmers Home Administration supervised credit program to develop farm-based recreation enterprises.

Boyd M. Turner Jr., the agency's county supervisor, with offices at Moundsville, has listed the many types of recreation enterprises financed by FHA loans in rural areas.

Northern Panhandle county farmers may apply for loans to finance construction of vacation cabins or other facilities such as ponds and lakes for boating and fishing, docks, vacation farms, riding stables, nature trails, picnic grounds, youth camps, travel-trailer parks and shooting preserves.

"Farmers Home Administration is using its farm operating and farm ownership loan programs for financing recreation loans," Turner explained. "Farmers can obtain a maximum of $35,000 for operating expenses, including the operation costs of farm-based recreation enterprises and $60,000 for a real estate program, including the development of land and buildings for recreation purposes."

Individual FHA loans to farmers for recreation purposes not only help in boosting the borrowers' net income, but raise the number of conveniently located recreation facilities for city folks along with putting land not needed for crops into income producing uses.

"These loans carry a 5 per cent interest rate on the unpaid principal. The repayment period on loans obtained by real estate may not exceed 40 years, while that secured by chattels has a seven-year limitation. Such credit is extended only to those who can't obtain it through normal lending channels.

The FHA also makes loans to individual farmers and community groups for financing recreation facilities such as golf courses, swimming pools, tennis courts, lakes and ponds. Complete information on loans to individual farmers and community groups for recreation purposes along with details about other FHA credit programs may be obtained from Turner at his office, Federal Office Building, 324 7th St., Moundsville.

How Can I?

Q. — How can I soften the leather or leatherette on chairs?

A. — Make a practice, several times a year, of pouring a little skim milk on a soft cloth and rubbing this over the leather.

Q. — How can I improve a good stylus for a mimeograph stencil?

A. — A discarded ballpoint pen, one that has gone dry, provides a very efficient stylus — and in fact this gadget doesn't dig into and tear the stencil the way a genuine stylus sometimes does.

Q. — How can I clean gold braid?

A. — After brushing the braid first with a stiff brush, rub powdered alum well into it, and after letting it remain for an hour or two, the braid will take on a much brighter look.

Kroger Reports Sales Up, But Profits Down

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Kroger Corp. says its sales were up for the first six months of 1966, but the profits were down. The grocery chain reported Thursday its sales for the 24 weeks ending June 18 were $1,207,115,439 compared with $1,129,203,467 in the same weeks of 1965. But net income for the 1966 period was reported as $11,906,034 down from $13,149,053 last year. Earnings per share also declined from $101 last year to 92 cents this year.

Housing starts (the beginning of construction on one residential unit) totaled 1.54 million in the U.S. last year as compared to 1.64 million in 1963 and 1.59 million in 1964.

Baking Firm Closes Plant In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ward Baking Co. closed its plant in the Strip District Thursday night where it operated for 63 years.

Some 180 members of Local 12, American Bakery & Confectionery Workers Union, who were idled by the closing, are seeking severance pay, vacation and other benefits from the company. They have obtained a court ordered bond on Ward to guarantee payments.

The company's distribution routes will be taken over by the Genest Midwest Baking Co. of Akron, Ohio.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 12-year-old girl who has a problem. It's my father. He does things that get me all mixed up. Here's what I mean:

Last night he yelled at me because I spilled a glass of lemonade on the living room floor and I didn't wipe it up very good. When he saw some small puddles here and there he got mad and called me a sloppy kid and ordered me to clean up the mess right.

I got some rags and started to wipe the stuff up when my dad came in the room with a mop. He dried my tears with his handkerchief and mopped up the floor for me.

This kind of thing happens all the time. I don't know if I should thank him for helping me or be mad at him for yelling at you and then he tries to make nice kitty.

Dear Kid: Your dad is the one who has a problem. He feels guilty about yelling at you and then he tries to make nice kitty.

The next time your dad behaves this way, say to him, "Look dad, I deserved to get chewed out, so please don't confuse me by acting like you did something wrong."

Your letter is further evidence that it's getting tougher every day to bring up parents.

Fifth Phony

Dear Ann: I have a serious problem and am turning to you for help — like thousands of others.

I'm 15 years old and just started to wear makeup. My mother is a real square and whenever she sees me with lipstick and mascara she gets mad and makes me take it off.

My father, however, is a swell guy. He thinks makeup looks great on me. Please tell me what to do.—FLOYD

Dear Floyd: You'd better take off the makeup. Hon, if you want to play on the football team, you dolls from Cal Tech could use some help out there on the field next season.

Now that you've written your fifth phony letter of the season will you please lay off and stop wasting my time?

Husband's Duty

Dear Ann: I'm a 26-year-old woman who has been married for five years. We have two fine sons and our marriage is a steady one.

My in-laws didn't like me when I came into the family but I felt that in time they would see I was the right girl for their son and gradually they would warm up to me. I tried awfully hard to be kind and considerate to them although they were always noticeably cool to me.

Last week my father-in-law casually remarked he was still not certain his son made the right choice when he selected me. I was dumbfounded and so was my husband. Neither of us replied.

Do you feel I should stop taking these insults in silence? I think perhaps I'm stupid to just sit there and let my in-laws abuse me. May I have your opinion?—VERY HURT

Dear Hurt: You should not respond to these insults but your husband must have a macaroni where his spine belongs for allowing such a remark to pass unanswered. It's your husband's place to tell his parents that he is sure his choice was the right one. Obviously he is unaware that it's his responsibility, so I suggest you inform him.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Former Resident Of Chester Heads School District

A former Chester resident now acting superintendent of a school district in California, appeared before Congress in Washington recently to seek a continuation of aid for federally-impacted schools.

He is Grant Pinney, who is associated with the China Lake Elementary School District. He was selected for his appearance before Congress by the school administrators of central California.

His school district, while sparsely populated, is larger in area than the state of Rhode Island.

Pinney, at one time a warehouseman at the Homer Laughlin China Co. and a Pennsylvania Railroad agent at Kobuta, entered college when he was 27, obtaining his degree in education from Arizona State University. He specialized in the teaching of remedial reading and advanced mathematics for elementary pupils.

He is married to the former Gertrude Harmon of Newell.

3 Hurt In Crash Near Columbiana

A Pennsylvania trucker and two North Lima youngsters were hurt in a collision on Route 14 at the intersection with Route 164 Thursday night at 8:54, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A tractor-trailer rig operated by Lindy Killensworth, 38, of Scenery Hill, Pa., went left of center and struck a 1961 station wagon driven by Billy A. Votaw, 37, of North Lima.

Killensworth was taken to Salem City Hospital, along with two passengers in the Votaw vehicle — Fred Votaw, 12, and Melinda Votaw, 10, both of North Lima.

Officers said the mishap is still under investigation.

Killensworth is in "fair" condition today with possible internal injuries and bruises of the left arm. The two girls were treated and released.

Area Reservists Finish Training

LITTLE CREEK, Va. (Special) — The Steubenville (Ohio) area Marine Reservists wrapped up their active duty training here today when they joined 1,000 other reservists to form a provisional Marine expeditionary brigade and execute an amphibious assault landing on a nearby beach.

The Unit Co. B, 4th Military Police Bn., arrived June 19 and began practical application of the tactics which had been studied all year at the home training center.

The two weeks of amphibious warfare training included beach assaults, guerrilla counter-insurgency tactics and helicopter assaults.

Firm, Owner Denied Exporting Privileges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hi-Grade Import-Export of Cincinnati, Ohio, its owner, Frank B. Otte, and an operating employee, Jack Massengale, have been denied export privileges for a year.

The Commerce Department announced the action Thursday and said Hi-Grade "grossly overstated" its earlier exports of walnut logs from February 1964 to February 1965. The department said the company shipped more logs than it was entitled to ship, despite federal controls.

Youngster, 7, Drowns, In Pool Near Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The body of Mark Replogle, 7, was recovered from a pool at Alwater Park near Uniontown Thursday. Stark County sheriff's deputies said.

2 Get Purse, Elude Pursuit

Two men escaped a wide-spread search Thursday after wresting away a young woman's purse containing about $2 as she walked on E. 4th St. in front of Central School, police reported.

Mrs. Rosalyn Ernst of 317 E. 3rd St. told officers the young men fled south on Union St. Both wore green shirts and dungarees, she related.

Mrs. Ernst and a young high school student who was nearby gave chase but the men disappeared south of E. 3rd St. near Broadway, officers reported.

Three radio cars scoured the area immediately after the theft was reported, but failed to spot the two thieves, Capt. Robert H. Pyle said.

Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. said he learned the two suspects walked through Thompson Pl. at the east end of E. 3rd St. near the Chester Bridge, then climbed a wooded hillside and apparently emerged onto E. 4th St. near the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd."

Mrs. Ernst said she was walking on E. 4th St. about 11:37 a. m. and noted the two young men sitting on a low stone wall in front of the school. As she neared Union St., the two approached rapidly from behind, grabbed her purse and fled, she said. She is an employee of the classified advertising department at The Review.

The beige straw purse contained a red wallet, two $1 bills, some change and several miscellaneous items, she said.

The fact one of the men still was carrying the purse allowed police to trace them as far as Thompson Pl.

Study Scheduled In Martins Ferry School Situation

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) — The Junior Chamber of Commerce here says it will form a citizen's committee to study the city's school situation.

The action came Thursday after the Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission of the Ohio Education Association recommended Wednesday that an independent citizen's group be formed to seek settlement of a dispute between the board of education and classroom teachers.

Teachers here had demanded a meeting to discuss educational problems, salaries and other matters. The teachers contend the board has refused to meet with their representatives.

The board meets Tuesday night and the OEA report probably will be a prime topic.

John Yoder, superintendent of schools for the past year, said last Tuesday that he would resign at next week's board meeting. Twenty-six other teachers or administrators also have said they will leave the system.

Training Continued By Midland Seamen

Seaman Recruits Gary R. Marshall, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Marshall of Darlington R.D. 2, and James J. Kovalesky, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Kovalesky of 820 Beaver Ave., Midland, have completed seven weeks of basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Marshall is now stationed at Norfolk, Va., on the U.S.S. Sierra as an electronics technician.

Kovalesky who has been spending a leave with his parents, will report Saturday to the U.S.S. Hartley at Newport, R.I., where he also will be an electronics technician. He is a 1964 graduate of Lincoln High School.

Promotions Reported For Crucible Employees

GEORGE SAUCER

CRAWFORD PRICE

The promotions of three employees, two as foremen and one as supervisor, at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. have been announced by Guy F. McCracken, Works Manager.

George W. Saucer of Smiths Ferry R.D. 1 has been promoted to turn foreman-rolling in the 24-Inch Bar Mill and Crawford Price of 1187 Erie St., East Liverpool, as turn foreman-laborer in the Services Department.

R. W. Swartzlander of Beamer Hollow Rd., Brighton Township, former inventory analyst, has been promoted to supervisor — statistics and inventory control.

SAUCER, a Crucible employee 30 years, joined the Midland Works in 1936 as a laborer in the Finishing Mills. Since 1939, he has held various positions, including operator and rougher in the former Bar Mill and guidesetter, spell operator and assistant roller, since 1959, in the 24-Inch Bar Mill.

He is a member of the Fairview Grange, the Ohioville Volunteer Fire Department, Borough of Ohioville Recreation Committee, Elks Lodge 258 of East Liverpool and the Fourth Armored Division.

He is a graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Price previously served since 1963, as a sub-foreman in the Services Department. He joined the Midland Works in 1951 as a laborer in that department.

A native of Midland, he is a graduate of Lincoln High School and the Ohio Valley Business College.

He is a member of the Tri-State Civic Music Association, the Progressive Council and the NAACP, all of East Liverpool, Elks Lodge 849 of Midland, the Loendi Literary Club of Pittsburgh and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285 of Wellsville.

He served in the Army Medical Corps from 1953 to 1955 as a corporal.

IN ANOTHER personnel change, William J. Hanlon of Pittsburgh has been hired as a programmer in systems and procedures at the Midland Works.

He previously was employed three years as a senior programmer at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, and in 1962-63 he was a computer analyst for the Douglas Missile and Space Systems at Santa Monica, Calif.

Area Locals Pick Delegates For IBOP's 78th Convention

Seventeen area locals of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery have selected delegates to represent them at the 78th annual convention of the union, which will begin Monday, July 18, at Miami Beach.

The size of each local's representation is based upon its membership. The delegates will vote on questions of union policy and operation, as set forth in resolutions proposed by local unions. They also will hear reports on activities in the last year.

The meeting is expected to adjourn on Saturday, July 23. It will be held at the Carillon Hotel, E. L. Wheatley, international president, will preside.

Delegates announced by East Liverpool locals are: Local 9: William Cox, Paul Hart, Floyd Jividen, James Norris and Arthur Parrish; Local 16: William M. Brown and William Snyder; Local 86: William Barrett, George Hanna, John Hart and Edwin D. Howell.

Local 124: Frank Allison, Alonzo D. Brown, Clarence E. Moore, Sherwood Robinson and Barbara Walker; Local 141: James E. Elliott, Noel Gillespie, Warren Smith and Charles E. Wright; Local 148: Margaret Howell and Ross Urie.

Local 163: Marie Fouse and Laura Krawiec; Local 172: Arnold Phillipone and Ray Shroshan; Local 195: Villa Carra-

Cancer Fatal At 84

CHICAGO (AP) — Harold Leonard Stuart, 84, head of one of the nation's largest investment houses dealing exclusively in bonds, died Thursday. Stuart, who had been hospitalized for about six weeks because of cancer, had been president of Halsey, Stuart & Co. for more than 50 years.

Judge Fines, Jails Driver

A Glenmoor man was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for drunken driving by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday.

John L. Maola Sr. of Glenmoor was also given a suspension of driving rights for a year and fined $5 and costs for intoxication.

Others fined were Joseph Hoppel of R.D. 3, $5 and costs for an unsafe vehicle; Gary L. Headley of Smiths Ferry, $5 and costs for crossing a yellow line.

Hubert Uhl of 2115 Chester Ave., Wellsville, and Larry Dugan of Parkview Ave., East Palestine, $5 and costs for speeding.

Russell Ridgeley of Rock Market, 27, who drowned in Camp Rd., Lisbon, was fined $50 and costs and given a suspended 60-day jail term for lack of a driver's license. The jail term was suspended on condition he dispose of his present car. He was fined $5 and costs for driving left of center.

James E. Robb of East Palestine R.D. 1 was fined $5 and costs each for improper headlights and improper registration.

Howard Pettigrew of Lisbon R.D. 1 was fined $5 and costs for driving left of center and Harry L. Stanley of Negley R.D. 1 and William A. Green of Negley R.D. 1 were fined $5 and costs each for failure to yield the right of way.

William VanValkenburg of 230 Moore St. forfeited a $15 bond for driving left of center.

Kiwanis Hears Ryckman

Engineer Airs Similarity Of Area, German Potters

The similarity of the pottery workers in West Germany and in the East Liverpool area was pointed out by George Ryckman of St. Clair Ave., an engineer, during a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Ryckman, employed by the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., has made several trips to Europe in connection with the pottery industry, and described the Western Germany area in which some 35,000 workers produce porcelain and ceramic goods at 55 plants.

He said the people of the district are much like those in this area — "They have a sense of conduct, of propriety, are generally hardworking, and are determined and opinionated."

RYCKMAN SAID the plants are not grouped together in various cities or towns, but are scattered through the countryside, with workers homes nearby.

The workers travel mostly by bicycle, few have cars. The average employee rents rather than owns his own home. The pottery plants have a production force of from 400 to 800 — there are few real large or small concerns, he said.

The pottery - producing area is adjacent to the former Sudetenland of Czechoslovakia, with the "Iron Curtain" visible from the eastern border.

Ryckman said a 300-yard-wide plowed area with barbed wire, watchtowers and mines marks the border. East Germany, he said, is burdened with a bureaucratic, community - controlled political structure which is restrictive and slow - moving, causing the people to be lethargic and unambitious.

West Germans, however, want reunification. Their economy is booming and their political structure is democratic and stable, and the people believe this stability could carry over into the Eastern Germany area should the nation be reunited.

Ryckman said the Germans consider themselves Germans, east or west, and the difference is much greater in the minds of Americans than in those of the Germans.

He said the Germans blame the United States and President Franklin Roosevelt for the division of the nation, and believe Winston Churchill was opposed.

The income of the German pottery employee is less than that of the American, on the basis of currency valuation, but the German actually is able to purchase much more for his money.

THERE IS a demand for labor in the nation, and many Italians, Spaniards and others have been brought into the country under contract to work for a certain period of time for industries needing workers.

One difference between the American and German pottery industry is that there is little production on Saturday or Sunday in Germany.

The workers generally oppose any extra weekend work, for they have a tradition of using Saturday for hiking, family trips or visitations, he said.

The German views the future with hopes for reunification and with the conviction the prosperity will continue.

German executives foresee spreading automation and re-adjustment to the need for further training of workers for the industries. The pottery firms, however, are less responsive to these changes and needs than most other industries, Ryckman concluded.

Scranton Heads State Republican Platform Group

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton was named chairman of the 1966 Pennsylvania Republican Platform Committee today and said the party's platform must look toward the future and be progressive, sound and compassionate.

He contrasted this with the Democratic Party and its candidate for governor, Milton Shapp, which, he said, "have committed themselves to a fantastic plan that would once again bring economic decline to Pennsylvania and untold hardship to all our people."

Named vice chairman of the committee were Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup and House Minority Leader Kenneth B. Lee. Mrs. June Honaman, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee, was named secretary and A. James Reichley, assistant to Scranton, was named executive staff director.

The appointments were announced at a meeting of the platform committee at the Queen Harris Motor Inn.

Scranton said he was accepting the new responsibility with enthusiasm. "No one knows better than I the importance of a vital, constructive platform to our campaign this year," he added.

Combined Trash Pickups Planned

The incinerator department will not make trash collections Monday because of the holiday, but the Monday and Tuesday routes will be combined into a single collection on Tuesday, Supt. John Melvin said today.

The balance of the week's schedule will be unaffected, Melvin added.

The combined route Tuesday will cover these streets:

Ohio Ave., St. George St., Railroad St., Kent St., Mulberry St., 1st Ave., Virginia Ave., Maple St., Elm St., Pennsylvania Ave., Boyce St., Monaca St., Harker Ave., Erie St., Globe St., Etruria St., Cleveland Ave., Palissey St., Wedgewood St., Holliday St., Park Ave., Alpha St., Oakland Ave., Price St., Valley Ave., Elizabeth St., Putnam St., Harvey Ave., Ohio Ave., Michigan Ave. and Little England.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average about 8 degrees above normal Saturday through Wednesday. Representative normal highs and lows: Columbus 86-62, Cleveland 82-60, and Cincinnati 86-66. Continued hot days and nights entire period. Showers or thundershowers about Tuesday or Wednesday will average about one-quarter inch.

Hunt Continues For Inmate Who Escaped Guards

HIGHSPIRE, Pa. (AP) — A bearded and heavily tattooed prisoner who escaped from his two guards near a restaurant on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Wednesday, remained at large today, as State Police continued their search.

Using powerful searchlights, police combed a mile - square area of farm fields and heavy woods near here Thursday night.

The prisoner, Harold Edward Smith, 33, of the Bronx, N. Y., escaped from two guards who were escorting him and another man to the Eastern State Penitentiary in Philadelphia. Smith ran out of the car when the guards drove up to a restaurant to eat.

Police said Smith, who has a five-day beard, has at least 39 tattoos on his body.

William R. White, Harrisburg district supervisor for the parole board said Smith had escaped from prison in Fulton county earlier this year where he was being held on burglary charges. After being captured in New York, White said, Smith was transferred to Franklin County Prison and then to Dauphin County.

ESTIMATING ADULT HEIGHT

Q. I have heard that the height of a child at age 2 multiplied by two will be the adult height. My daughter, now 6 years old, was 3 feet 2 inches tall at two. This would make her 6 feet 4 inches tall as an adult. Is the two by two rule accurate?

A. No. The 2 times 2 formula usually over-estimates adult height by two to five inches. Using a more accurate method, your daughter would be expected to reach a height of 5 feet 9 inches, plus or minus one inch.

"PAP" TESTS FOR TEEN-AGERS

Q. I am the mother of two teenage girls. I have a "Pap" test at regular intervals. When should I start taking the girls in for the test?

A. You should discuss this with your physician. From studies conducted by the U.S. Public Health Service it seems that the relative risk of cervical cancer in teenage girls is very low. However, the best time to start this routine diagnostic test should be determined by your personal physician.

Stole From Father's Bank

Embezzler Of $2 Million Paroled After Five Years

ALDERSON, W.Va. (AP)—Six years ago, the small Iowa hometown of Burnice Geiger was shocked at the news that she had embezzled $2.1 million from her father's bank. Today, after five years in federal prison here, she's returning to that town to take up a new life.

Mrs. Geiger, now 64, is being paroled after serving five years of a 15-year sentence. Her model behavior reduced the term by two days for each day spent.

Gladys V. Bowman, warden of the Federal Women's Prison, said Mrs. Geiger planned to leave the prison by car this morning for Charleston where she will fly to Chicago and then home.

She returns to Sheldon, Iowa, where for 30 years she lavished money on a home, business, stocks, expensive clothes and donations to charity.

At the end of the 30 years, when a bank examiner uncovered the gigantic discrepancy in the bank's bookkeeping, Mrs. Geiger's world crumbled.

She had been a faithful assistant cashier for all those years, in the bank owned by her father, W.P. Iverson. She was earning $5,000 a year at the end, but had lived the life of a millionaire.

Sheldon, a town of about 4,500 in northwestern Iowa, appeared to be taking Mrs. Geiger's return calmly.

"I would hope for a Christian attitude of forgiveness," said the Rev. Jerry Eslinger of the Sheldon Congregational Church. "It's been a long time. I don't think the people are particularly disturbed any more," said Mrs. W. R. Adkins, wife of Sheldon's mayor.

Mrs. Geiger will live with her father, now 89, and mother, 84.

The bank failed and a business which she has chiefly financed went bankrupt. But most of the bank's depositors were protected by federal insurance.

Her bookkeeping system was so intricate that it took weeks before officials could see clearly how much money was involved.

She pleaded guilty and was sentenced on Feb. 17, 1961. Shortly after she went to prison, her husband, Wallace, died.

He Feared Killed As Bus Carrying Workers Crashes

OZARK, Ala. (AP) — A bus loaded with migratory workers from Orlando, Fla., crashed into an embankment nine miles north of here early today and the Dale County coroner said the death toll could run as high as 11.

Coroner Harold Dick said the accident occurred when the bus veered off U.S. 231, went down a slope and smashed into a bank.

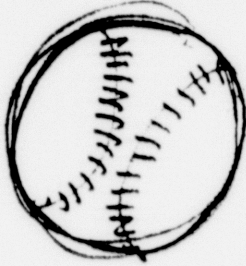

He said the bus was loaded with approximately 30 men, women and children headed for Missouri to work in the sweet-corn fields.

Dick said an accurate count on the dead was not immediately available, but he said the unofficial toll was nine and two were reported dying in hospitals. He said the injured had been taken to hospitals in Ozark and Dothan and an Army hospital at Ft. Rucker.

The coroner said it appeared a tire blew on the old school bus.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

Faking A News Conference

President Johnson apparently still has not resolved how he wants to use—or not use—television in his press confrontations. His most recent gambit in this regard has aroused a new spin among TV newsmen.

Richard K. Doan

On June 18 called one of those Saturday Mr. Johnson news conferences he is wont to schedule on short notice in his big Oval Office. TV and news-reel cameras were barred. Afterward the President led three network correspondents—one from each chain—to the White House TV studio and allowed the filming of his answer to three questions asked in the news conference.

Robert Fleming, deputy news secretary to the President, conceded that the brief reenactment before TV cameras was designed to placate the networks. He said he didn't know whether the procedure would be continued.

Top-level TV news executives, having no desire to ruffle the President publicly, are understandably reluctant to talk on the record about the situation, but they privately admit they "don't like it," as one of them said.

ONE OF THE NETWORKS "talked vaguely about boycotting the next one of these," this official disclosed, adding, "But you know, you just don't boycott the President of the United States."

The leading radio-TV industry journal, "Broadcasting" magazine, having a little less directly at stake than the networks in discussing the matter, editorially described the June 18 experiment as "not only a fiasco but a delusion."

"This was no news conference at all. It was a show that had already been rehearsed," the publication beamed, suggesting that TV's journalists "can live without this latest innovation."

New York TV news sources indicated, however, that no formal representations are likely to be made to the White House.

One official, who seemed to reflect the general sentiment, said, "Our position is simply that the situation isn't ideal and we hope it doesn't last."

Mr. Johnson hasn't held a formal, bull-fledged, live-TV news conference in months. He seemed to warm up to the medium after a hesitant start, but then backed away again. He is said to feel he doesn't come over well in the give-and-take of a live televised news conference.

BUDD SCHULBERG, the author of "What Makes Sammy Run?" "The Disenchanted," "The Harder They Fell" and his brother, the NBC News producer Stuart Schulberg, are getting together an hour-long documentary intended to give utterance to the frank, inner feelings of the Negroes of Watts.

the trouble-torn Los Angeles suburb.

"The Angry Voices of Watts: An NBC Inquiry," scheduled to be televised in prime time later this summer, perhaps on Aug. 16, will be the outgrowth of a novel undertaking.

Arthur Schulberg organized a creative writing workshop for young Negroes in Watts last year as a means of helping them express their pent-up feelings. Meetings were at first held in the Westminster Neighborhood Association quarters, in "the ghetto within a ghetto," at the center of Watts, but later were moved to a nearby coffee house.

The NBC program will be made up largely of filmed recordings of these meetings, showing members of the workshop and short stories they have written expressing their views on the racial problems of their community.

ABC FINALLY has confirmed a long-reported deal with the MGM studios in Hollywood to produce six two-hour "movies for TV," at the same time disclosing that three of them are to be shown on the network's "Sunday Night at the Movies" during the coming season.

Two of the three initial productions will be westerns, the third a suspense thriller.

The sagebrush sagas: "Return of a Gunfighter" with Robert Taylor and Chad Everett, and "The Dangerous Days of Kiowa Jones," with Robert Horton, Diane Baker, and Sam Mineo.

The thriller: "52 Miles of Terror," with Dana Andrews and Jeanne Crain. Unlike the usual movies on television, these will be shown in theaters after their homescreen runs.

Wellsville Sedan Damaged Badly In Local Mishap

A Wellsville man's sedan was damaged extensively in a collision Thursday at 10:32 p. m. on W. 8th St. at the end of a ramp leading off the Freeway, police reported.

The mishap smashed the front of a 1958 sedan operated by Thomas R. Duffield, 19, of 1525 Commerce St., Wellsville, and caused less severe damage to the rear of a 1960 sedan operated by George W. Bailey, 24, of Grant St., Lisbon, officers said.

Bailey told police he halted to look for oncoming traffic as he pulled up at the end of the westbound ramp. Seeking to improve his view, he pulled up a short distance and halted again, when his car was hit from the rear by Duffield's he said. Duffield said he pulled out when Bailey's car moved and began looking for traffic approaching on W. 8th. Then, he said, his auto hit Bailey's from the rear when the Lisbon man halted a second time.

There are three million persons in the U.S. over the age of 80 and another seven million in the 70-to-79 age group.

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Eating Problems Of Children Discussed

The child who at 5, 8 or 12 eats some of all the foods provided for him tends to have wholesome nutrition. He can share enjoyment at mealtime with his family.

When he is a guest then or later in another home he is a gracious and acceptable guest. If he has no mark-Dr. Garry Myers said food dislikes he doesn't seem queer to other children when he eats at school or elsewhere with them.

So we can see why many parents try to educate the child to eat what is set before him. They have a desirable objective.

But in their zeal to reach this objective they may cause all sorts of unhappiness in the child over foods and eating.

MAKING THE child sit at the table till he has finished eating all on his plate is one unsuccessful way many parents have with children from 5 to 10 or 12.

Imagine yourself the youngster who, after the rest of the family have finished eating and have left the table, sitting there for an indefinite period till he has eaten all the food on his plate. A youngster may sit for as long as an hour or more before he fulfills the requirement. In desperation he may wash down some of the unwanted food with water or milk.

Whereas an occasional child, after a few such experiences, will choose to leave a clean plate and not have to stay unduly long at the table, many children will have to go through this torturous procedure meal after meal.

If you face this problem, consider the following procedure. Let him tell you how small a portion of food or foods to serve on his plate so long as each portion is large enough to be visible. Or it might be better to let him serve himself. Even then you might warn him against taking too much of any food.

IF, OF the foods prepared for the family, one is especially disliked by the child, there may be times when you would not put any of it on his plate. Aim to induce him as time goes on to be willing to try a bit of it, if no bigger than a pea. Sometimes this child may prefer to have only one kind of food on his plate at a time.

Often where much of several foods are served the child on his plate the amount there may seem so large that he is sure he can't eat nearly all of it. Then to require him to sit at the table till he has a clean plate may seem a hopeless problem for him.

How wonderful when each child enjoys his food and his eating of it and shares with all other members of the family a comfortable and companionable experience.

525th Quake Since April Cows Tashkent

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Asian city of Tashkent was hit today by the 525th earthquake since April 26.

More than 300,000 persons, over a fourth of the city's population of 1.1 million, have been left homeless by the quakes. Casualty figures are incomplete. The new quake was moderate, between 5 and 6 on the 12-point scale used in the Soviet Union.

There were no immediate reports of damage or casualties. Non-Communist newsmen have been barred from Tashkent since the quakes began.

Improvement Courses

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Courses designed to improve the driving of currently-licensed motorists are being established in many parts of the country. In Colorado, all 14,000 state employees have been urged to take an eight-hour course of instruction. The Pennsylvania State Police Academy added a driver improvement course to its curriculum recently, and more than 5,000 employees of the General Motors Oldsmobile plant in Lansing now are taking a similar course.

Pittsburgh Police Press Hunt For Commuter Thief

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Police in Pittsburgh pressed their search today for their most elusive quarry—the so-called "commuter bandit."

The "commuter bandit," already blamed for 14 bank hold-ups, is believed to be the armed gunman who robbed the Oakland branch of Western Pennsylvania National Bank Thursday, getting away with $9,554.

Ian MacLennan, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, said the robber's description and method of operation fit those of the "commuter bandit."

If it was the same man, it marked his first strike since Nov. 29, 1965. Police say the commuter bandit's robberies netted him $133,000.

Kennedy, 22 Others To Float Down 'River Of No Return'

JACKASS FLATS, Idaho (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and 22 others set out today for a Fourth of July float down the "River of No Return."

There was even a football—a seemingly necessary item on any Kennedy outing—in the gear when the party flew from Sun Valley to start the holiday trip down the middle fork of the Salmon River in central Idaho's wilderness. The football got a good workout last Fourth of July when the Kennedys floated the Yampa and Green rivers in Colorado and Utah.

The 100-mile run down the rapid-filled Salmon may take four or five days, Kennedy said. He wasn't sure. But his oldest daughter, Kathleen, 14, said firmly, "Four days."

The big party will include Kennedy, his wife Ethel and seven of their nine children, astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., his wife and daughter, mountain climber James Whittaker, his wife and two sons, and the wife of singer Andy Williams. Three Kennedy nieces and nephews and two teen-age friends of the Kennedy children, plus family friend Lemoyne Billings of New York, also will be along.

The Salmon River run—in rubber boats steered by huge sweeps or oars on each end—is called by veteran river guides the "wildest boat ride in America."

Earns Her Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Ann Gerard, who has served Mary Immaculate Hospital for the past 26 years as a volunteer worker, was crowned queen of volunteers at the annual award meeting and tea. The 76-year-old widow holds a 25,000-hour service pin in tribute to her work in the hospital's gift shop, where she often sells her own hand-crocheted articles.

McConnell Fills Post . . .

The basketball fortunes of East Liverpool High School now will be in the hands of Clinton McConnell. The 36-year-old McConnell comes here after compiling a near .500 mark at Edgewood High School, located in a suburb of Ashtabula.

His first season at Edgewood showed six victories and 13 setbacks, but his second campaign (1964-65) brought a 16-6 mark and his team was runnerup in the District tournament.

Last season Edgewood finished with a 9-11 mark for a three year total of 31-30.

During a telephone conversation, Supt. Ralph Curie of the Buckeye Local School District, which includes Edgewood High, said McConnell had resigned his duties as a basketball coach, but he was a very competent teacher and his coaching ability was never questioned.

Supt. Curie said McConnell was an "aggressive coach maybe more aggressive than the conditions permitted here."

McConnell is married and the father of four children.

McCONNELL arrives on the scene which boiled over June 6 when Frank Chan was fired by a 3-2 vote and certain members of the Board of Education drew heavy criticism from the public.

We do not know if McConnell received any answer on when basketball can start at ELHS but in all fairness the Board should see that the rule is changed and East Liverpool can get in line with other schools and start practice Nov. 1. McConnell shouldn't have a strike against him before he starts as Chan did last season.

Hamill Named At Wooster . . .

CARL HAMILL, cage coach at Stanton Local High School last season, has been appointed head basketball coach at Wooster High School.

Hamill, who withdrew as a candidate for the East Liverpool post following an interview here, owns an outstanding coaching record. In eight years as head coach, the Weirton native has compiled an impressive mark of 142 wins and only 31 defeats.

After a slow start last season at Stanton Local, the Raiders wound up with an 11-10 record.

Before coming to Stanton, Hamill guided the 1962 Ft. Frye team to the state Class A semi-finals and that team won 26 straight games.

His overall record at Ft. Frye was 99-17 for five years. While at Brilliant for two years he won 32 and lost 14.

Wooster High also named Jack Peterson, who was grid boss at Canfield, as head football coach.

Ex-Potter Produces Winners . . .

ST. MARY'S High School of Colorado Springs, Colo., compiled one of the top baseball records in the area this past season under the direction of Joe Leigh, a former East Liverpool athlete.

Leigh, a football and baseball player at ELHS, saw his team compile an 11-3-1 record.

Of the three losses, St. Mary's came back in the return meeting to defeat each team. One game ended in a 9-9 tie and never was rescheduled.

This past season two of Leigh's pitchers were among the best in the area, with earned run averages of 1.24 and 1.14.

In addition to closing a successful baseball campaign, Leigh's wrestling team won the Colorado Private Schools Invitational Tournament earlier this year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Leigh of Riverview St.

Wright Hits Ninth Homer In 6-4 Win

Dutch Wright connected for his ninth home run of the season and went on to drive in three runs as Veteran Glass topped Golden Star, 6-4, in the Little League Thursday.

Ed Davis was the winning pitcher. Dean Horger doubled and singled to pace Golden Star.

The Medics unleashed a 20-hit attack to rout Chester Legion 15-2. Frederick's four hits and a triple and two doubles by Williams paced the hit parade. R. Aaron was the winning pitcher.

Banfield and Lascola led the losers with a double and single.

Tuck scented sachet bags behind draperies, under chair cushions, and in linen and clothes closets, to shed a subtle fragrance.

Alou Extends Streak To 13 Pirates Win 5th Straight Behind Law

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Matty Alou has lost his pull, but he's pushed himself to the front of the National League batting race.

Alou extended his hitting streak to 13 straight games Thursday night, rapping three hits as the Pittsburgh Pirates walloped Houston 9-0 for their fifth consecutive victory.

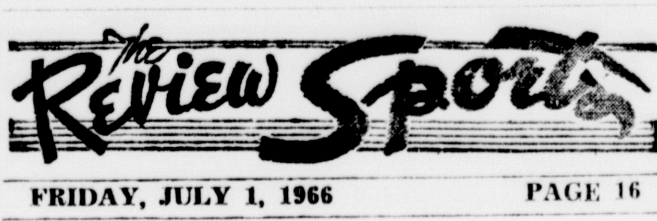

Alou's performance shot his average up six points to .328 and gave him the batting lead over teammates Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell, who are hitting .326.

Such a hitting height is rare for the 27-year-old center fielder, whose lifetime average is a mere .260. But there are two reasons for the dramatic change.

First, he's playing regularly, something he never did in his first six seasons in the majors with San Francisco. Second, Harry Walker is his manager.

Walker grabbed hold of Alou when spring training started and convinced him to stop trying to pull every pitch to right field.

"Try it my way," Walker told the left-handed hitter. "Try it and see how easy it is when you get the feel of it. You don't have the power to become a pull hitter, and you'll lose hits trying. The wind blowing to right field at Candlestick Park spoiled you."

Alou unspooled himself and started pushing the ball to left. That's when he started pushing his average up, too.

"I never hit to left field before in my life," the 160-pound Dominican said, "but now I like it. The Pirates do, too."

In the only other NL game, San Francisco's Gaylord Perry scattered seven hits and struck out 12, gaining his 11th victory against only one defeat. Jim Hart brought San Francisco the victory with a two-run homer in the fourth inning.

3. Cleveland blanked Minnesota 4-0 and Boston edged New York 3-2.

Alou singled to left field in the first inning and scored the only run. Vernon Law needed in his six-hit shutout. Gene Alley and Jim Pagliaroni each drove in two Pirate runs while Stargell, Bill Mazeroski and Donn Clendenon had two hits apiece.

San Francisco's Gaylord Perry scattered seven hits and struck out 12, gaining his 11th victory against only one defeat. Jim Hart brought San Francisco the victory with a two-run homer in the fourth inning.

Fred Whitfield, the celebrated Yankee killer, has become a Minnesota murderer while clubbing Twins pitching like a wild Indian for a 4-0 victory.

The 28-year-old Cleveland first baseman has rifled 20 hits in 44 tries in 11 games against Minnesota this season. His 1966 batting mark against New York, the team he has tormented since coming into the American League four years ago, is only .235.

Whitfield gunned three hits, including a two-run homer, and right-hander Steve Hargan fired blanks as the Indians scalped the Twins 4-0 Thursday.

In the only other AL game, league-leading Baltimore downed Kansas City 11-3 and Boston edged the Yanks 3-2.

In the National League, San Francisco beat Atlanta 3-1. Pittsburgh routed Houston 9-0 and Philadelphia defeated the New York Mets 1-0.

Whitfield, whose season's batting average is only .250, walloped his 12th homer after Chico Salmon singled in the eighth to clinch the Indians' victory. Earlier, Whitfield had singled home Jim Landis in the first inning, then singled and scored Cleveland's second run in the fourth.

Hargan, making only his third start of the year, allowed only one Minnesota runner to reach second. He struck out 10 and walked none. Jim Perry was the losing pitcher.

The Orioles collected 19 hits, including eight doubles, in crushing the A's and boosting their AL lead to four games over idle Detroit.

Baltimore roughed up Ralph Terry, Kansas City's starter, for three runs on five hits, including doubles by Frank Robinson and Luis Aparicio, in the opening inning and never were headed.

Carl Yastrzemski and Don Demeter were the latest Yankee killers. Yastrzemski doubled and scored on Demeter's single in the seventh inning, breaking a 2-2 tie for the Red Sox.

The Yanks had taken a 1-0 lead in the second and picked up another run in the fourth on Joe Pepitone's 14th home run. Boston tied it in the fifth and shelled Jim Bouton on an error.

Rico Petrocelli's single, a fielder's choice, Yastrzemski's double and an infield hit by George Scott.

The victory went to Don McMahon, who checked the Yankees in the final three innings after Jim Lonborg was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth. Hal Reniff took the loss.

Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle, who had hammered two homers in each of the two previous games, walked three times and flied out in his other two trips.

Smith Misses No-Hitter, Hurls 6-To-1 Victory

Gary Smith, who owned a no-hitter for six innings, gave up a single in the seventh in putting Potters Bank to a 6-1 victory over Sterling China Thursday in the Wellsville Babe Ruth League.

Mike Messer paced the Potters with a perfect three-for-three night.

Today at 6, the Highlandtown Colts will meet the Hammondsville Royals.

CAUGHT IN A RUNDOWN is Phillies Clay Dalrymple who is trapped between third and home. He was tagged out by Mets catcher Jerry Grote (15) after Ken Boyer (14) fielded a ground ball at third and threw to Grote. The Phils won, 1-0. (UPI Telephoto)

Sweeps Ralston In Straight Sets

Santana Wins Net Title

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Manuel Santana, the deft Spaniard who is the United States champion, defeated Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., in straight sets today for the singles title in the All-England tennis title, 6-4, 11-9, 6-4.

The match lasted one hour, 40 minutes and was easily the best final seen here in many years. Santana was seeded fourth. Ralston, the U.S. No. 1, was the sixth seed this year.

The center court was packed with 15,000 for the match in which Santana was the first European to play in the best of five finals since 1955.

A great roar went up from the fans packed in the steamy heat of the center court, most famed tennis court in the world, as Santana triumphed.

The Spaniard's sunny, happy-go-lucky nature has made him a firm favorite with the Wimbledon crowds, and the fans roared again as he received the massive silver championship trophy from Princess Marina, the queen's aunt, who is president of the Wimbledon Club.

For Ralston, 23 and five years younger than Santana, the result was stark tragedy.

He has been criticized in the past for his temperament but throughout Wimbledon this year he has kept this sternly under control and played the final with grace and power.

Grand Slam Faces Potters In Minor Loop

A grand slam home run by Savage spurred Potters Savings and Loan to a 12-7 victory over First National in the Minor League Thursday.

Hildebrand, the winning pitcher, also added a triple and single for his own cause.

Pustateri's won its 13th game in 14 starts with a 17-9 decision of M & A Motors. Tom Briggs and Dan Clark had three hits each and Rick Pugh was the winning pitcher. Rinehart, Carnes and McComas collected two hits each for the losers.

Tri-State Appliance, led by the hitting of Glass and Greenwood, defeated T.S. & T., 5-2.

Girls Will Be Feature Of Saturday's Racing

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fillies and mares will play a major role in Saturday's thoroughbred racing program and have a dominant part in an even richer card on July 4 with more than one-half million dollars up for grabs in the top events at major tracks on the two days.

Saturday's national card is headed by three races for members of the distaff divisions — the $50,000-added Vanity at Hollywood Park, the $35,000-added Molly Pitcher at Monmouth Park and the $30,000-added Misty Isle, limited to 3-year-olds, at Arlington Park.

Three-year-old fillies also will be seen in action Monday in the $50,000-added Monmouth Oaks at Monmouth Park. But richest of the July 4 headliners will be the $100,000-added Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct in which Bold Lad will carry 135 pounds while attempting to wrap up the second leg of New York's Handicap Triple Crown. The Wheatley Stable ace won the Metropolitan on May 30 in his first major comeback race after winning the 2-year-old title in 1964.

At Hollywood Park, where Native Diver is expected to go after his 28th stakes victory in the American Cap Monday, 11 fillies are in line for the 1 1/8 miles of the Vanity.

Poona Queen, Wilshire Handicap winner, is top weight under 120 pounds, eight more than has been assigned to last year's winner, Jalousie II.

Tosmah, who ran second as Hedevar matched the then world record for a mile in the Equipose at Arlington Park, is set to carry 127 pounds in the 1 1/16 miles of the Molly Pitcher. She'll give from 10-15 pounds to nine expected rivals including Wheatley Stable's speedy Discipline.

The Misty Isle, at 11-16 miles is expected to attract 12 with Neat N Sweet packing the heaviest impost of 121 pounds.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Chris Short, Philadelphia, pitched a six-hitter and struck out 13 as the Phillies edged the New York Mets 1-0.

BATTING—Fred Whitfield, Cleveland, rapped two singles and a homer, driving in three runs in the Indians' 4-0 victory over Minnesota.

Study a pattern well before pinning to material and cutting out pieces. It eliminates possible errors.

Female Athletes Improving But Field Events Are Weak

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
FREDRICK, Md. (AP) — The national chairman of the U. S. AAU Track and Field Committee says America's female athletes continue to show improvement.

But June Bellew of Menlo Park, Calif., thinks the sport needs a little glamorizing in the field events to give it the added push necessary to pull even with the Russian girls.

"We're still weak in the field events," Miss Bellew said after the first session of the 1966 National AAU meet concluded Thursday night on the new Gov. Thomas Johnson High School track.

"We should have more depth this year than ever before," Miss Bellew said. "Especially in the long-distance races. And we hope to continue showing improvement against the Russians."

The American team, which will face the Polish girls at Berkeley, Calif., July 16-17 and the Russians a week later at Los Angeles will be picked on the basis of performances in Saturday night's women's competition.

Miss Bellew noted that two American girls' records were broken Thursday night and another was tied, adding "and that was just in the qualifying rounds."

Denise Paschal of San Francisco lowered the record in the 50-yard hurdles to 6.5 seconds and Barbara Friedrich of Manassas, N.J., bettered an existing mark for the javelin.

She tossed the spear 158 feet, two inches in the qualifying round — topping the American record of 155-6—although she already has an earlier loss of 171 feet pending in the possible record category.

Jenda Lee Jones of Phoenix, Ariz., tied the 100-yard record at 10.7 seconds and was easily the standout on the new rubber and asphalt competition track being used for the first time.

Sevy's, Litten's Conquer Opponents In Pony League

Sevy's came up with a five-run third inning then went on to take an 8-3 decision from Burbick's while Litten's whipped Woodbine 12-1 Thursday in the Pony League.

Joe March and Deem drove in two runs each with a double and single to pace Sevy's while Watson also collected two hits. Cornell hurled a five hitter while Wittaker was the losing pitcher. Murray and Massey had two hits for the losers.

Woodbine committed seven errors and Dubberly, Moore and Parson collected three hits apiece to pace Litten's victory. Dubberly and Moore homered for the winners. Bruce Diddle was the winning pitcher with Mike Smith the loser.

U.S. Team's Shell Gets To Destination On Time

By BARRY MAY

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP) — The crew of the Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia today row their first race at the 139th Henley Royal Regatta — just 24 hours after the arrival of the shell with which they won the Olympic gold medal.

Vesper manager Jack Kelly has been chasing the 60-foot shell all week. The boat, named Doc Rigall, after the club's president, arrived from the United States via Amsterdam Thursday morning.

Kelly, brother of Princess Grace of Monaco, drove to London Airport at 6 a. m. to supervise offloading, accompanied by the shell on the 90-minute drive to the regatta, and had his crew on the water before lunch.

Crowds gathered as the bronzed and brawny Philadelphia lowered their Italian-built craft into the Thames River.

Vesper Coach Alan Rosenberg said: "The crew were very excited when the shell arrived. They were out on the water as soon as possible. After a 60-minute workout they felt much more comfortable."

Vesper, who got a first-round bye, meets the powerful East German crew of Turn Und Sports Club of Berlin in the semifinal of the Grand Challenge Cup.

TMT Harvard University lightweighters meet Wallingford Rowing Club of Britain in the quarter-finals of the Thames Cup for eights.

Three U.S. crews — Washington-Lee High School of Arlington, Va.; St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H.; and Kent School, Conn., still are in the Princess Elizabeth for schoolboy eights.

South Kent School of Connecticut is keeping U.S. hopes alive in the Wyfold Cup for coxless fours.

Miss Wright Holds 2-Shot Edge In Open

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Mickey Wright, golf's female all-time top money winner, is back on her game and seemingly was poised today to capture an unprecedented 12th U.S. Women's Open crown.

Others in a field of 52 pros and 47 amateurs mainly were troubled Thursday by Hazeltine National Golf Club's tricky and tough course. But Miss Wright moved into the second round of the $20,000 blue ribbon tourney owning the only par-breaking effort, a one-under-par 71 posted in the opening round.

That gave Mickey, 31, playing in her 11th Open, a two-stroke lead over defending champion Carol Mann, who putted brilliantly for her opening 73.

Hazeltine's stern 6,325-yard layout, built in 1962 in hopes of landing the 1969 National Men's Open, left current money leader Kathy Whitworth and former Women's Open champions Betsy Rawls, Mrs. Murre Lindstrom, Patty Berg and Louise Suggs all floundering at 80 or worse.

Beside the Misses Wright and Mann, the only other of seven contending former champions to break 80 was Mary Mills, 1963 winner, eight strokes off the pace with a 79.

The field gets whittled today to the low 40 scores and ties for the Saturday and Sunday rounds, concluding the chase for the top prize of $4,000.

Next to Miss Mann, who trailed in opening-round putts of 50, 25, 15 and 12 feet, the closest pursuers of Miss Wright was a 21-year-old pro, Donna Caponi, with a 74 and a quartet locked at 75.

That foursome included the field's leading amateurs, newly crowned collegiate champion Joyce Kazmierski of Michigan State and 1964 collegiate titlist Roberta Albers of the University of Miami Fla.

Toledo Tops Buffalo, 6-2

By The Associated Press
Toledo second baseman Bill Bethea drove home four runs Thursday night as the Mud Hens stopped the Buffalo Bisons 6-2 in International League action.

The victory boosted Toledo into third place in the standings just 3 1/2 games behind front-running Columbus, which lost to Toronto 3-2. Rochester pulled to within 2 1/2 games of the Jets by picking on Richmond 4-2. The Syracuse-Jacksonville game was rained out.

Bethea gave Toledo a 2-1 lead with a two-run home run in the third inning against Buffalo, then drove in two more runs with a single during a four-run seventh that snapped a 2-2 tie. Ed Merritt and Jerry Walker teamed up to check the Bisons on five hits.

Home Runs Set Pace In Newell's 8-6 Win

Whittington and Pecka connected for home runs and two singles each in leading Newell to a 8-6 victory over Lawrenceville in the Senior Division of the South Side Hot Stove League Thursday.

D. Foltz was the winning pitcher and gave up five hits. J. Pittenger received the loss. Dugan had two of his team's five hits.

Hanover edged Hookstown 2-1 in another South Side League game.

Dave Cox bested Greg Butcher in the mound battle. Both hurlers struck out 12 batters and Cox helped his own cause with a double. Ed Ashcroft collected three of the five hits for the losers.

Heisler, Colla Meet In Finals Of Junior Golf

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) —

Yank Heisler of Ravenna, Ohio's two-time high school champion, battled Ralph Colla of Youngstown today for the Mid-America Junior Golf Tournament title.

Both registered a pair of victories Thursday and vaulted into today's 36-hole finale over the Possum Run course.

Heisler got hot in a semifinal match and breezed to a 3 and 2 triumph over Greg Poston of Logan. But Colla had to go 26 holes before disposing of Terry Cramond of Lancaster, 1-up.

Heisler trailed by two holes after six but got even at nine and won the first four holes after the turn to sideline Poston.

Earlier in the day Heisler whipped Don Fobes of Cuyahoga Falls, 3 and 2; Colla clipped Bruce Harrison of Zanesville, 2 and 1; Poston downed Dave Baker of Belpre, 2 and 1, and Cramond defeated Dave Rasley of Dayton, 1-up.

Fight Results

LOS ANGELES—Eddie Jones, 173, Los Angeles, knocked out Billy Stephan, 175, Los Angeles, 8.

PORTLAND, Maine — Pete Riccielli, 170, Portland, out-pointed Sonny Moore, 165, Hempstead, N.Y., 8.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Freeman Hardin, 201, Riverside, Calif., knocked out Sonny King, 191 1/2, Henderson, Nev., 6.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, July 1, the 182nd day of 1966. There are 183 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1898, Col. Theodore Roosevelt's "Rough Rider" regiment of volunteer cavalry charged across open fields against Spanish forces dug in atop San Juan Hill in Cuba during the Spanish-American War.

On this date:

In 1847, the first adhesive U.S. postage stamps were issued.

In 1863, the battle of Gettysburg began during the Civil War.

In 1924, daily air mail service was inaugurated between New York and San Francisco.

In 1940, Nazi German forces occupied the English Channel islands during World War II.

In 1942, Nazi General Rommel's "Afrika Korps" reached El Alamein.

Ten years ago — Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev was quoted in the Cairo press as asserting that Israel was seeking to maintain a state of tension in the Middle East to assure the continuance of Western Aid.

Five years ago — French President Charles de Gaulle made two speeches in Paris, calling for international and domestic peace.

One year ago — Communist North Viet Nam rejected a request by British Prime Minister Harold Wilson to permit a Western peace mission to visit Hanoi.

Junior Editors Quiz on ALASKA

LAY ALASKA ON THE MAIN MAP OF THE U.S.

FISHERIES

SALMON

AND YOU'VE GOT TO ADMIT—IT'S BIG!

1896

THERE'S GOOD FARMING IN SOUTH ALASKA

COULDN'T WAIT!

QUESTION: Could you tell me something about Alaska?

ANSWER: Our artist has symbolized some of the interesting things about our new state along with his picture of the Alaska Brown Bear, largest of Carnivorous land animals. Alaska is huge, with an area one fifth of the main part of the United States or more than twice the size of the great state of Texas. Like the bear again, Alaska is primeval, with immense mountains, virgin forests, animal life, minerals, timber, water power as yet unused.

Not all of Alaska is wilderness, for the southern part receives warm winds which blow over the Japanese Current. As we show, this is excellent farming country. We bought Alaska from the Russians in 1867 and it proved a splendid investment. In 1896, gold was discovered in the Klondike valley of the nearby Canadian Yukon Territory. Going through Alaska to get to the Klondike, prospectors found gold in Alaska, and a large amount is still mined by modern methods. Alaska was admitted to statehood in 1959.

FOR YOU TO DO: Draw a picture of Alaska's state flag. Its background is a deep, rich blue; in the lower left are seven stars representing the Big Dipper. A line through the last two stars of the Dipper's bowl will point to Polaris, the North Star, which is by itself in the upper right corner.

Pam Skoglund of Grays Lake, Ill., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

YOU ALWAYS HAVE SOME SMART-ARSE COMERACK, HAVEN'T YOU?

THE FLINTSTONES

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU, DINO? YOU SICK?

IN LOVE?? OH, BOY! HOW STUPID CAN YOU GET?

HA HA HA!

NOPE... I'M IN LOVE!

WAIT! I TELL ANY SWEETHEART ABOUT THIS!

ARCHIE

ARCHIE'S NEW SUPER-DUPER CAMERA HAS AN AUTOMATIC TIMER ON THE SHUTTER RELEASE! HE SAYS IT'S FOOLPROOF.

WELL, I COULDN'T THINK OF A BETTER FOOL TO PROVE IT!

HE SETS IT FOR TEN SECONDS, THEN RUNS IN FRONT AND TAKES HIS OWN PICTURE!

JULIET JONES

JULIE... WHAT'S THE MATTER? WHAT DID HE DO?

DO? NOTHING, EVE... AND YET... EVERYTHING...

HE SET A MAGNIFICENT STAGE AND HE WAITED FOR ME TO DECLARE MYSELF.

JULIE... COULD YOU LOVE A MAN LIKE LARRY TLAQUE?

I CAN'T ANSWER THAT... BECAUSE I DON'T KNOW WHAT KIND OF MAN LARRY TLAQUE IS.

BETTE BAILEY

A PRESENT FOR ME?

YEAH, SOMETHING DIFFERENT... OPEN IT.

NOT THAT!

AAAAGH!

BUZZ SAWYER

CWOON, MARY, LET'S HAVE A CUP OF COFFEE AND TALK OVER OLD TIMES.

CAN'T, BUT I'VE GOT TO SNUG THIS UNIFORM AND GET INTO SOME HIKING CLOTHES. I'M LEAVING WITH SOME MARINE REPLACEMENTS FOR A CAMP IN THE HILLS WHERE THEY NEED A NURSE.

BUT WHY NOT JOIN US? YOU COULD SEE HOW THE MARINES OPERATE... AND WE COULD HANG OVER OLD TIMES.

GOSH, I WISH I COULD. BUT I'VE GOT TO CATCH A COD FLIGHT BACK TO MY CARRIER DAY AFTER TOMORROW.

DAY AFTER TOMORROW! GOOD! YOU'LL HAVE PLENTY OF TIME. I CAN ARRANGE IT AND I WON'T ASK FOR AN ANSWER.

OKAY, WHY NOT?

SECRET AGENT

YOU EXPECT ME TO SPEND THREE DAYS IN THAT CRATE GARDAY?

IT'S FULLY EQUIPPED FOR THE TRIP TORCH!

OXYGEN SUPPLY... FOOD... ALL THE COMFORTS OF HOME!

Meanwhile, a major electronics plant, a government-ordered computer is loaded into an identical crate and readied for shipment to NATO in France.

Activities Listed For School Band At Beaver Local

A schedule of activities and rehearsals for the Beaver Local High School Band has been announced by Robert H. Sprague, director.

The band will march in the Fourth of July parade at Midland, meeting at the high school at 9:15 a. m.

A meeting of all students interested in trying out for majorettes will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the high school music room.

Flute and clarinet players will meet Wednesday night at 8 at the room.

Majorette tryouts will be held July 12 at 7 at the school. Karen Drotleff of Winona, Nancy Hendricks of Greenford and Mary Ann Ferris of East Palestine will be judges.

Full band rehearsals will be held July 13, July 20, July 27, Aug. 3 and Aug. 10 at 7 p. m. and Aug. 15-18 and Aug. 22-26 from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m.

Pictures of the band will be taken for the yearbook and football program Aug. 27 at 12:30.

The band will march in Chester Aug. 29, meeting at 6:30 p. m.

Students unable to attend these sessions are to notify Sprague, by postcard only.

Midland Seniors Get Scholarship Reminder

Midland High School officials have reminded 1966-67 seniors of the July 15 deadline on applications for state scholarships and financial aid.

Seniors with combined scores of 800 and above on the March or May College Board Tests who have had their scores sent to the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency are eligible.

These awards are in Group Two — Freshman Financial Need Award classification. Applications may be obtained at the Guidance Office at the High School.

Bulls sold at a record-breaking average of $895 at the recent 1966 National Milking Shorthorn sale here, the highest average in the history of the national sale. The highest-selling bull went for $1,250 and the highest-selling female for $950.

Record Receipts Set In Ohio's Fiscal Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio closed the books on its fiscal year Wednesday with record receipts of $2.2 billion, up more than $304 million over last fiscal year.

The books were closed at 11:30

a. m. with overall receipts of $2,221,072,323. Last year's figure was $1,916,869,922.

It is the first time Ohio receipts have passed $2 billion. The state auditor's office said slightly more than half of the increase resulted from sale of new highway and capital improvement bonds.

Keep In Trim

Mature Attitude Toward Weight

It takes courage to be starkly honest in making a personal appraisal. There is a strong tendency to gloss over one's shortcomings instead of facing facts in a mature way.

Today's letter from a young mother who is slimming down happily, is a real tonic.

"When I married five years ago I weighed 135 pounds and I had a neat figure. After my second child was born my weight soared to 210 pounds! I found I was turning to food when I felt upset or unhappy.

"NOW I AM finally and really losing this bulky fat and, oh, how much happier I am! You may or may not want to pass this on to your readers, but I will tell you my thoughts. Heavy women, especially those who were slim when they first married sometimes say 'If my husband truly loved me then, he should love me now. I'm the same person.'

"But I know in my heart that this is not completely true. A fatty who was formerly slim is not really the same person. Not only do you look different, but you do not act the same. There is a definite personality change. Perhaps it's the self-consciousness. But little by little you become more withdrawn. You hold on to small hurts, magnifying them. You feel unhappy and so it is easy to be irritable.

"My husband was not happy either. He didn't like all that fat! Finally we had a long talk and he offered to try to help me, and went with me to the doctor.

"Now the good news! My weight is 179... 31 pounds off. And I have lost a total of 15 inches off my measurements. Life is actually more fun for the whole family now that I am losing weight.

"I EXERCISE every day, usually in mid-morning. It helps to have a regular time for exercise. I look forward to my exercise time. I'm no longer tired. I'm so proud of myself, and so is my husband. I am 26 years old. I surely hope my story will encourage some other young mothers to whip into streamlining action. I feel just wonderful. Thanks for all the encouragement from your column," she concluded.

That's a winning spirit! This young mother does not regard diet and exercise as an ordeal, but as a new beginning. With that attitude she can go ahead in a lighthearted way. Now that she is dieting and exercising, life is actually more fun for her than when she was turning to excess food for compensation.

She met the challenge head on. We salute her!
